THE BATTLE OF BELMONT

General Grant's First Official Report.

A Very Brief but Satisfactory Document.

The Man of Deeds and Not of Words.

Report of the Battle of Belmont, Mo., fought Nov. 7, 1861.

HEADQUARTERS ARMIES OF THE UNITED STATES,
WASHINGTON, June 26, 1865.

SIR: I have the honor to transmit herewith a full and complete return of the battle of Belmont, Missouri, fought Nov. 7, 1861, which I would respectfully ask to have substituted in the place of my report of that action of date Nov. 19, 1861, made to Gen. S. Williams, Assistant Adjutant-General to the General-in-Chief. Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

U. S. GRANT, Lieut.-Gen.

Hon. E. M. Stanton, Secretary of State.

Referred to the Adjutant-General for publication with the accompanying report.

E. M. STANTON, Secretary of War.

June 27, 1865.

HEADQUARTERS DISTRICT SOUTHEAST MISSOURI,
CAIRO, Ill., Nov. 17, 1861.

GENERAL: The following order was received from Headquarters Western Department:

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 1, 1861.

Gen. Grant, Commanding at Cairo:

You are hereby directed to hold your whole command ready to march at an hour's notice, until further orders, and you will take particular care to be amply supplied with transportation and ammunition. You are also directed to make demonstrations with your troops along both sides of the river toward Charleston, Norfolk and Blandville, and to keep your columns constantly moving back and against these places, without, however, attacking the enemy.

Very respectfully, &c.,
CHAUNCEY McKEEVER,
Assistant Adjutant-General.

At the same time I was notified that similar instructions had been sent to Brig.-Gen. C. F. Smith, commanding Paducah, Ky., and was directed to communicate with him freely as to my movements, that his might be coöperative.

On the 2d of the same month, and before it was possible for any considerable preparation to have been made for the execution of this order, the following telegraphic dispatch was received:

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 2, 1861.

To Brig.-Gen. Grant:

Jeff. Thompson is at Indian's Ford of the St. Francois River, twenty-five miles below Greenville, with about 3,000 men. Col. Carlin has started with force from Pilot Knob. Send a force from Cape Girardeau and Bird's Point to assist Carlin in driving Thompson into Arkansas.

By order of Maj.-Gen. FREMONT.
C. M. Keever, Assistant Adjutant-General.

The forces I determined to send from Bird's Point were immediately designated, and Col. J. R. Oglesby, Eighth Illinois Volunteers, assigned to the command under the following detailed instructions:

HEADQUARTERS DISTRICT SOUTHEAST MISSOURI,
CAIRO, Nov. 3, 1861.

Col. R. J. Oglesby, Commanding, &c., Bird's Point, Mo.:

You will take command of an expedition consisting of your regiment, four companies of the Eleventh Illinois, all of the Eighteenth and Twenty-ninth, three companies of cavalry from Bird's Point, (to be selected and notified by yourself,) and a section of Schwartz's Battery, artillery, and proceed to Commerce, Missouri. From Commerce you will strike for Sikeston, Mr. Cropper acting as guide. From there go in pursuit of a rebel force understood to be 3,000 strong, under Jeff. Thompson, now at Indian Ford, on the St. Francis River.

An expedition has already left Ironton, Mo., to attack this force. Should they learn that they have left that place, it will not be necessary for you to go there, but pursue the enemy in any direction he may go, always being cautious not to fall in with an unlooked-for foe too strong for the command under you.

The object of the expedition is to destroy this force, and the manner of doing it is left largely at your discretion, believing it better not to trammel you with instructions.

Transportation will be furnished you for fourteen days' rations and four or five days' forage. All you may require outside of this must be furnished by the country through which you pass. In taking supplies you will be careful to select a proper officer to press them, and require a receipt to be given, and the articles pressed accounted for in the same manner as if purchased.

You are particularly enjoined to allow no foraging by your men. It is demoralizing in the extreme, and is apt to make open enemies where they would not otherwise exist. U. S. GRANT, Brigadier-General.

Col. J. B. Plummer, Eleventh Missouri Volunteers, commanding Cape Girardeau, was directed to send one regiment in the direction of Bloomfield with a view to attracting the attention of the enemy.

The forces under Col. Oglesby were all got off on the evening of the 3d.

On the 5th a telegram was received from headquarters, St. Louis, stating that the enemy was reinforcing Price's army, from Columbus, by way of White River, and directing that the demonstration that had been ordered against Columbus be immediately made. Orders were accordingly at once given to the troops under my command that remained at Cairo, Bird's Point, and Fort Holt. A letter was also sent to Brig.-Gen. C. F. Smith, commanding at Paducah, requesting him to make a demonstration at the same time against Columbus.

To more effectually attain the object of the demonstration against the enemy at Belmont and Columbus, I determined on the morning of the 6th to temporarily change the direction of Col. Oglesby's column toward New-Madrid, and also to send a small force under Col. W. H. L. Wallace, Eleventh Illinois Volunteers, to Charlestown, Mo., to ultimately join Col. Oglesby. In accordance with this determination I addressed Col. Oglesby the following communication:

CAIRO, Nov. 6, 1861.

Col. R. J. Oglesby, Commanding Expedition:

On receipt of this turn your column toward New-Madrid. When you arrive at the nearest point to Columbus from which there is a road to that place, communicate with me at Belmont.

U. S. GRANT, Brigadier-General.

Which was sent to Col. Wallace with the following letter:

CAIRO, Nov. 6. 1861.

Col. W. H. L. Wallace, Bird's Point, Mo.:

Herewith I send you an order to Col. Oglesby to change the direction of his column toward New-Madrid, halting to communicate with me at Belmont from the nearest point on his road.

I desire you to get up the Charleston expedition ordered for to-morrow, to start to-night, taking two days' rations with them. You will accompany them to Charleston and get Col. Oglesby's instructions to him by a messenger, if practicable, and when he is near enough you may join him. For this purpose you may substitute the remainder of your regiment in place of an equal amount from Col. Marsh's. The two days' rations carried by your men in haversacks will enable you to join Col. Oglesby's command, and there you will find rations enough for several days more should they be necessary. You may take a limited number of tents, and at Charleston press wagons to carry them to the main column. There you will find sufficient transportation to release the pressed wagons. U. S. GRANT, Brigadier-General.

On the evening of the 6th I left this place on steamers, with McClernand's brigade, consisting of Twenty-seventh Regiment Illinois Volunteers, Col. N. B. Buford; Thirtieth Regiment Illinois Volunteers, Col. Philip B. Fonke; Thirty-first Regiment Illinois Volunteers, Col. John A. Logan; Dollins' Company Independent Illinois Cavalry, Capt. J. J. Dollins; Delano's Company Adams County Illinois Cavalry, Lieut. J. R. Catlin.

Dougherty's brigade, consisting of: Twenty-second Regiment Illinois Volunteers, Lieut.-Col. H. E. Hart; Seventh Regiment Iowa Volunteers, Col. J. G. Lauman; amounting to 3,114 men of all arms, to make the demonstration against Columbus. I proceeded down the river to a point nine miles below here, where we lay until next morning, on the Kentucky shore, which served to distract the enemy and lead him to suppose that he was to be attacked in his strongly fortified position at Columbus.

About 2 o'clock on the morning of the 7th, I received information from Col. W. H. L. Wallace at Charleston (sent by a messenger on board steamer W. H. B.,) that he had learned from a reliable Union man that the enemy had been crossing from Columbus to Belmont the day before for the purpose of following after and cutting off the forces under Col. Oglesby. Such a move on his part seemed to me more than probable, and gave at once a two-fold importance to my demonstration against the enemy, namely, the prevention of reinforcements to Gen. Price, and the cutting off of the two columns that I had sent, in pursuance of directions, from this place and Cape Girardeau in pursuit of Jeff Thompson. This information determined me to attack vigorously his forces at Belmont, knowing that should we be repulsed we would reëmbark without difficulty under the protection of the gunboats. The following order was given:

ON BOARD STEAMER BELLE MEMPHIS,
Nov. 7, 1861—2 o'clock A. M.

SPECIAL ORDER.—The troops composing the present expedition from this place will move promptly at 6 o'clock this morning. The gunboats will take the advance and be followed by the First Brigade, under command of Brig.-Gen. John A. McClernand, composed of all the troops from Cairo and Fort Holt. The Second Brigade, comprising the remainder of the troops of the expedition, commanded by Col. John Dougherty, will follow. The entire force will debark at the lowest point on the Missouri shore where a landing can be effected in security from the rebel batteries. The point of debarkation will be designated by Capt. Walke, commanding naval forces.

By order of Brig.-Gen. U. S. GRANT.
JOHN A. RAWLINS, A. A. G.

Promptly at the hour designated we proceeded down the river to a point just out of range of the rebel batteries at Columbus, and debarked on the Missouri shore. From here the troops were marched, with skirmishers well in advance, by flank for about one mile towards Belmont, and there formed in line of battle. One battalion had been left as a reserve near the transports. Two companies from each regiment were thrown forward as skirmishers, to ascertain the position of the enemy, and about nine o'clock met and engaged him. The balance of my force, with the exception of the reserve, was promptly thrown forward, and drove the enemy foot by foot, and from tree to tree, back to his encampment on the river bank, a distance of over two miles. Here he had strengthened his position by felling the timber for several hundred yards around his camp, making a sort of abattis. Our men charged through this, driving the enemy under cover of the bank, and many of them into their transports in quick time, leaving us in possession of everything not exceedingly portable.

Belmont is situated on low ground, and every foot is commanded by the guns on the opposite shore, and, of course, could not be held for a single hour after the enemy became aware of the withdrawal of his troops. Having no wagons with me, I could move but little of the captured property, consequently gave orders for the destruction of everything that could not be moved, and an immediate return to our transports. Tents, blankets, &c., were set on fire and destroyed, and our return march commenced, taking his artillery and a large number of captured horses and prisoners with us. Three pieces of artillery being drawn by hand, and one by an inefficient team, were spiked and left on the road; two were brought to this place.

We had but fairly got under way when the enemy, having received reinforcements, rallied under cover of the river bank and the woods on the point of land in the bend of the river above us, and made his appearance between us and our transports, evidently with a design of cutting off our return to them.

Our troops were not in the least discouraged, but charged the enemy and again defeated him. We then, with the exception of the Twenty-seventh Illinois, Col. N. B. Buford commanding, reached our transports and embarked without further molestation. While waiting for the arrival of this regiment, and to get some of our wounded from a field hospital near by, the enemy, having crossed fresh troops from Columbus, again made his appearance on the river bank and commenced firing upon our transports. The fire was returned by our men from the decks of the steamers, and also by the gunboats, with terrible effect, compelling him to retire in the direction of Belmont. In the meantime Col. Buford, although he had received orders to return with the main force, took the Charleston road from Belmont and came in on the road leading to Bird's Point, where we had formed the line of battle in the morning. At this point, to avoid the shells from the gunboats that were beginning to fall among his men, he took a blind path direct to the river, and followed a wood road up its bank, and thereby avoided meeting the enemy, who were retiring by the main road. On his appearance on the river bank a steamer was dropped down and took his command on board, without his having participated or lost a man in the enemy's attempt to cut us off from our transports.

Notwithstanding the crowded state of our transports, the only loss we sustained from the enemy's fire upon them was three men wounded, one of whom belonged to one of the boats.

Our loss in killed on the field was 85, 301 wounded, (many of them, however, slightly,) and 99 missing. Of the wounded 125 fell into the hands of the enemy. Nearly all the missing were from the Seventh Iowa Regiment, which suffered more severely than any other. All the troops behaved with great gallantry, which was in a degree attributable to the coolness and presence of mind of their officers, particularly the Colonels commanding.

Gen. McClernand was in the midst of danger throughout the engagement, and displayed both coolness and judgment. His horse was three times shot under him.

Col. Dougherty, of the Twenty-second Illinois volunteers, commanding the Second Brigade, by his coolness and bravery, entitles himself to be named among the most competent of officers for command of troops in battle. In our second engagement he was three times wounded, and fell a prisoner in the hands of the enemy.

Among the killed was Lieut.-Col. A. Wentz, Seventh Iowa Volunteers, and among the wounded were Col. J. G. Lauman and Major E. W. Rice, of the Seventh Iowa.

The reports of sub-commanders will detail more fully particulars of the engagements, and the conduct of both officers and men.

To my staff, Capt. John A. Rawlins, Assistant Adjutant-General; Lieuts. C. B. Lagow and Wm. S. Hillyer, Aids-de-Camp, and Capt. R. B. Hatch, Assistant Quartermaster, I am much indebted for the promptitude with which they discharged their several duties.

Surgeon J. H. Brinton, United States Volunteers, chief medical officer, was on the field during the entire engagement, and displayed great ability and efficiency in providing for the wounded, and in organizing the medical corps.

Maj. J. D. Webster, Acting Chief-Engineer, also accompanied me on the field, and displayed soldierly qualities of a high order.

My own horse was shot under me during the engagement.

The gunboats Tyler, Capt. Walke, and Lexington, Capt. Stembolt, conveyed the expedition and rendered most efficient service. Immediately upon our landing, they engaged the enemy's batteries on the heights above Columbus, and protected our transports throughout. For a detailed account of the part taken by them, I refer with pleasure to the accompanying report of Capt. H. S. Walke, senior officer.

In pursuance of my request, Gen. Smith, commanding at Paducah, sent on the 7th instant a force to Mayfield, Kentucky, and another in the direction of Columbus, with orders not to approach nearer, however, than twelve or fifteen miles of that place. I also sent a small force on the Kentucky side toward Columbus, under Col. John Cook, Seventh Illinois Volunteers, with orders not to go beyond Elliott's Mills, distant some twelve miles from Columbus. These forces having marched to the points designated in their orders, returned, without having met serious resistance.

On the evening of the 7th information of the result of the engagement at Belmont was sent to Col. Oglesby, commanding expedition against Jeff. Thompson, and order, to return to Bird's Point by way of Charleston, Missouri. Before these reached him, however, he had learned that Jeff. Thompson had left the place where he was reported to be when the expedition started, (he having gone toward New-Madrid or Arkansas,) and had determined to return. The same information was sent to the commanding officer at Cape Girardeau, with directions for the troops to be brought back that had gone out from that place.

From all the information I have been able to obtain since the engagement, the enemy's loss in killed and wounded was much greater than ours. We captured 175 prisoners, all his artillery and transportation, and destroyed his entire camp and garrison equipage. Independent of the injuries inflicted upon him, and the prevention of his reinforcing Price, or sending a force to cut off the expeditions against Jeff. Thompson, the confidence inspired in our troops in the engagement will be of incalculable benefit to us in the future. Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

U. S. GRANT, Brigadier-General.

The Conflict of Authority in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Friday, June 30.

The contest between the civil and military authorities, growing out of the arrest of W. B. N. Cozzens, continues. Last night three of the Sheriff's deputies proceeded to Provost-Marshal Frink's headquarters, with orders to arrest that officer. They were driven away by the provost guard, and made a return accordingly to the court to-day. The matter has been postponed till to-morrow, at 9 o'clock, when the Sheriff will probably call on all citizens to aid him in arresting the Provost-Marshal. There seems to be some doubt as to whether the application for assistance to enforce the arrest should be directed to the Sheriff or to the Governor.

From Fortress Monroe.

FORTRESS MONROE, Friday, June 30.

About 100 government horses were sold by auction at Camp Hamilton to-day. The prices varied from $10 to $115.

The steamer Salvor arrived to-day from Philadelphia, and the steamer Starlight from Morehead City with mails and passengers.

The steamer Norfolk sailed to-day for Morehead City with mails and passengers.

About 500 soldiers of different regiments passed through here to-day on their way home.

The Polytechnic College of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, Thursday, June 30.

The annual commencement of the Polytechnic College of Pennsylvania took place this evening. Ex-Gov. Pollock pronounced the charge to the graduates, who were principally from the Middle and Western States. Five received the degree of mining engineers, three that of mechanical engineers, and fifteen that of civil engineers; numbers which are significant of the return of the nation to peaceful industry.

TRINITY COLLEGE.

Exercises of Commencement Day—Degrees Conferred.

Correspondence of the New-York Times:

ALLYN HALL, HARTFORD,
Thursday, June 29, 1865.

The levée at the President's mansion last evening was a very brilliant affair. The parlors were thronged to that measure of discomfort which is the infallible price of the social pleasure of the occasion, while the grounds about the house, illuminated with Chinese lanterns, were filled with promenading parties, and surrounded by a deputation of the townsfolk, whom the sweet music of the Third Artillery Band attracted. I understand that among the distinguished visitors who paid their respects to the new President, were Prof. Stowe and his gifted wife.

The ceremonies of Commencement itself occupy the attention of a large audience to-day, at Allyn Hall. The programme runneth on this wise:

Latin Salutatory—Edward Payson Johnson, Mass. Imagination—Its Office and Power in History—Geo. Albert Coggeshall, R. I. The Benefits of War—Samuel Stevens, N. Y. The Classic Sea—Edmund Sanford Clark, Mass. Our Fallen Classmates; A Poem—Edward P. Johnson, Mass. The Hour—Frank Ralph DeLano, Mass. The Poetry of Science—John Henry Brocklesby, Conn. The Plain of Esdraelon—Henry Harrison Oberly, Penn. Strength in the Memory of the Past, and Valedictory Oration—Charles Tyler Olmsted, N. Y. Master's Oration—Rev. James Byron Murray, B. A.

Music. Degrees Conferred. "Old Hundred." Benediction by the Chancellor.

The procession formed at the chapel at 10 o'clock, and marched to the hall with their admirable band, (the Third United States Artillery, as on the evening before,) playing the national and other airs. At the late residence of the lamented Bishop Brownell, Chancellor ex officio of the college, a halt was made, and while all stood uncovered, the band played "Auld Lang Syne;" an attention which was gratefully acknowledged by the widow and family of the late Bishop, who are both in themselves and by reason of their relative's character, very highly esteemed and beloved by collegians and citizens.

Previous to the commencement services, the literary societies—the Parthenon and the Atheneum—held their annual reunion at their rooms in the college, welcoming—as does the college this year—more than the ordinary number of Alumni, revisiting the old familiar scenes.

Upon the commencement schedule appears a tribute to the memory of two former students of the college, which it is eminently fitting should be mentioned here:

"Edgar Bartow Lewis, of the Class of 1865, entered the national service in August, 1862, and died from consequent exposure and hardship Sept. 6, 1863.

Franklin Hayes, of the Class of 1865, entered the national service in August, 1862, and died in the prison at Andersonville, Oct. 7, 1864."

The degrees conferred were as follows:

B. A.—John Henry Brocklesby, Edmund Sandford Clark, George Albert Coggeshall, Frank Ralph De Lano, H. G. Gardner, Melbourne Green, Charles Husband, Charles T. Olmsted, Edward P. Johnson, Henry H. Oberly, Samuel Stevens.

B. A. Honorary.—Cyprian Nichols Beach, William Henry Lewis.

M. A., in course.—Rev. Edwin E. Butler, Richard C. Cowling, Rev. Samuel Hermann, Jacob Ivers Lewis, Robert W. Linen, James B. Murray, Lieut William H. Webster. Wm. H. D. Grannis, (B. A., Kenyon College,) William Sterling Coggswell.

M. A. Honorary.—Rev. Leighton Coleman, William P. Clyde, William Hamersly.

D. D., Ad Eundem—Rev. J. B. Kerfoot, President of the College.

After the commencement, the annual dinner was held in Allyn Hall, adjoining the hotel, where toasts and addresses were the order of the day, and several thousand dollars pledged to the support of the institution. The session has not yet concluded, as I close.

I must correct a brace of errors which I inadvertently made in yesterday's letter. Bishop Williams—not Bishop Brownell, who is dead—is the present Chancellor of the College; and President Kerfoot comes from St. James', not St. Mary's College, Maryland.

Union College.

Hon. Charles A. Phelps, of Boston, has been invited to deliver the oration before the Alumni of Union College, on the 26th of July, the day preceding commencement.

Rev. Dr. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, and Judge Edmonds, of New-York, deliver addresses before different societies the day previous.

From the Mississippi.

CAIRO, Thursday, June 30.

A steamer from Memphis brings 275 bales of cotton for St. Louis, and 100 bales passed up the Ohio yesterday.

A special dispatch to the Memphis Bulletin, dated New-Orleans, the 27th inst., says the negroes at Vicksburgh are protesting against the appointment of Judge Sharkey as Governor, and are clamoring for the right to vote. Gen. Sheridan had gone to Texas.

The steamer Dix was recently sunk in the Red River, and was a total loss.

The lower country and other portions of the State were infested with guerrillas and outlaws. Gen. Canby had sent some troops after them.

Their offices at all the mountain hotels and on the summit of Mount Washington, will be reopened for the season on Monday, July 3.

OUT-DOOR SPORTS.

Base Ball.

THE EX-CHAMPIONS ECKFORDS VS. THE NEWARK CLUB.

The first match this season between these clubs took place yesterday afternoon, on the Union Ball Grounds, Williamsburgh, quite a numerous concourse of spectators being present, among them a fair delegation of the lady friends of the Eckfords. The Newark Club had out their best team, with the exception of their catcher, and the Eckfords were strongly represented, although they were minus the services of Josh Snyder, a fine batsman and active fielder. The Eckford nine opened play with some very lively batting, something quite in their old style, while their fielding was excellent after the first inning, in which they had not their in-field as well placed as in the succeeding innings. The Newark party did not get well into their work until after the fifth inning, when the nine began to display the ability they evidently possess, their opponents having but little to boast of in regard to superior play, either in batting or fielding, as the score shows, for though in the first five innings the disparity in the score did not speak favorably for the Newarkers, in the last four innings the score showed a marked degree of improvement, the Eckfords only obtaining four runs. Several fine fly catches were made on both sides, but the best were taken by the Eckfords. The umpire kept the players well up to the mark in the observance of the rules, and the consequence was a fairly-played game. We give the score below:

THE HOMEWARD MARCH.

Arrival of Regiments, Batteries and Battalions—Proposed Celebration of the Fourth.

The Thirty-second Massachusetts Regiment arrived yesterday afternoon, per the Amboy route, and proceeded to the Battery. It was not known whether the command could be got off last night, but in all probability it will not leave until to-day. This regiment represents seven Massachusetts regiments consolidated with it, and numbers 830 men and officers, having served in the Third Brigade, First Division, Fifth Corps. The following is a complete list of the officers:

Field and Staff—Colonel, J. C. Edmonds; Lieutenant-Colonel, J. A. Cunningham; Major, E. A. Sheppard; Surgeon, —— Fletcher; Adjutant, J. A. Bowdlaer; Assistant Surgeon, McGregor.

Line Officers—Co. A—Captain, J. E. Field; First Lieutenant, A. E. Drury. Co. B—Captain, A. Bancroft; First Lieutenant, Jos. P. Robinson; Second Lieutenant, W. T. Tuffts. Co. C—Captain, Timothy McCartney; First Lieutenant, Geo. W. Batchelder; Second Lieutenant, W. F. Tuttle. Co. D—First Lieutenant, L. Burrell. Company E—S. T. Phinney; Co. F, Capt. J. A. Bowdlear; First Lieut. T. Coas; Co. G, Capt. Geo. W. Lauriat; Second Lieut. Chas. Bartlett; Co. H, Capt. W. E. Reed; First Lieut. A. O. Coburn; Co. I, Capt. J. W. Smith; Second Lieut. Jas. W. King; Co. K, Capt. Geo. A. Hall; Co. L, Capt. J. E. March; First Lieut. Geo. A. Ackerman; Co. M, Capt. C. W. Smith; First Lieut. A. W. Kneeland; Second Lieut. L. Y. Jennees.

Battery F, First Rhode Island Light Artillery, some 93 men, arrived yesterday morning at the Battery Barracks, leaving in the afternoon for Providence. This battery has served in Burnside's expedition to North Carolina in 1862, and under Gen. Foster, and with the Army of the James. The following officers accompanied the battery: Capt. T. Simpson, First Lieuts. G. Spencer and F. A. Warner, Second Lieuts. C. E. Guild and John W. Sayles. Col. Almy, Commissary State Agent, provided a supply of fresh strawberries for the command.

The steamship Transit arrived late on Thursday night from Newbern, N. C., having on board Batteries C and I, of the Third New-York Light Artillery, for some time past stationed at Raleigh, N. C. The steamer, after coaling up, proceeded to Albany yesterday morning, where the different batteries composing the Third New-York Artillery are ordered to report for final muster.

The Third New-York Artillery originally entered the service in April, 1861, as the Nineteenth New-York Infantry, and served as such until 1863, when the two years' men were discharged, and additional recruits forwarded sufficient to reorganize as the Third New-York Heavy Artillery, but soon their arms were changed to that of light artillery, and as such served with distinction in the Army of the Ohio, under Schofield, being attached to the Twenty-third Corps. The various batteries have seen service under Gens. Foster, Hunter, Peck, Sherman and Schofield, in the departments under the command of those Generals.

The following are the officers accompanying Batteries C and I yesterday: Col. C. H. Stewart, Major Riggs, Capt. W. M. Kirby, Capt. W. E. Mercer, Adjutant J. B. Stork, First Lieut. and Quartermaster O. D. Ball, Second Lieuts. M. Webster and W. E. Goodrich. There were about 200 men on board the Transit.

THE FRUIT AND VEGETABLE FUND.

Col. Colyer has received the following extraordinary epistle, which we give verbatim. It tells its own story of barefaced assurance:

NEW-YORK, June 26, 1865.

COLYER—I notice in the Herald of this day, a card from you in reference to furnishing the returning soldiers with "berries, &c." Now! It struck me forcibly that you are going into a speculation for the purpose of collecting money and put three-fourths of it into your pocket, and let the soldiers (hired Hessians for greenbacks,) do the best they can. I am aware that this has been a speculative "war," and many make the most of it. I fancy it is so in your case, and as this is the last of it, I think you are wise (pecuniarily,) to take the advantage of any of the hireling soldiers, who may return, so Colyer, make the most you can, don't give a —— of them (cripples or not,) one berry.

Adieu, Colonel and Superintendent,
BEN WOOD, JR.

NEW-YORK, June 28, 1865.

Col. Vincent Colyer:

SIR: At a meeting of the committee to provide a thanksgiving dinner, half the balance of the funds still in my hands was appropriated to you for delicacies for our returning soldiers. I inclose you a check for $645 72, that being the amount, and would at the same time express my sympathy with the deep interest you have displayed in doing all in your power for them.

Yours, truly,
THEODORE ROOSEVELT, Treasurer.

RECEPTION OF VETERANS ON THE 4TH.

Considerable anxiety is manifested in military circles regarding the contemplated formal reception of all regiments and battalions, returned from the war, that may be in the city on the 4th of July. It is understood that the Irish Brigade will be hurried through from Washington, so as to reach this city during Monday, in time to take part in the proposed reception. We understand that it is expected that a large number of returned regiments will be represented in the line of march on the approaching Fourth. The Tenth New-York Zouaves will doubtless be present, as they are expected to-day and the Fifth and Seventh Veteran Regiments, now doing garrison duty on Hart's Island, will arrive and take up position with the other troops. We have received the following:

CARD FROM GEN. SANDFORD.

HEADQUARTERS FIRST DIVISION N. G.,
NEW-YORK, June 30, 1865.

Maj.-Gen. Sandford, with the concurrence of the Mayor and Common Council, respectfully invites all returned officers of volunteers, in this city and the vicinity, who have been honorably discharged, and are not connected with battalions and regiments who will parade on the 4th inst., to unite in the celebration of the day, and for that purpose to assemble in uniform, in Fifth-avenue, with the right on Twenty-third-street, at 10:30 A. M. of that day, the field and general officers mounted, and the line officers on foot, to unite with the regiments of volunteers on duty in the ceremonies of the day, and in the line of march of the First Division.

CHAS. W. SANDFORD, Major-General.

Col. Colyer has engaged fifteen or twenty omnibusses for the Fourth, in which he intends giving the cripples a good time. A collation will be spread by the Agency, in the City Assembly Rooms, and the boys can have a good view of the procession from the windows. The following note was received by the Colonel:

Col. Vincent Colyer, New-York State Agent:

Accept my thanks for your kind invitation. The gentlemen associated with me in the hospital are Drs. Teats, Schrady, Philips and Bradford, A. A. Surgeons, U. S. A. One of these gentlemen will be detailed to take charge of the patients during the day.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

Brevet Colonel and Surgeon U. S. A.

It seems to be the determination of all committees and others having anything to do with the gallant boys in blue, to make every possible exertion toward giving them a hearty reception and splendid time in general.

FIRST MAINE VOLUNTEERS.

The First Maine Volunteers, Col. Hyde, arrived at 4 P. M. yesterday, and left at 11 P. M. by the New-Haven boat for Augusta, Me.

While this regiment was being received, the Eighth Vermont Volunteers, 600 strong, Lieut.-Col. Franklin commanding, arrived at Jersey City without notice, and were escorted to the New-York State Depot, although ample arrangements had been made for them at the Battery Barracks. The regiment leaves to-morrow.

Interesting Torpedo Test—Distinguished Naval Officers Present.

Another scientific and interesting test has been given this week, under the auspices of Rear-Admiral Gregory, showing the terribly destructive power of an implement of war which American genius has evolved during the rebellion—the various specimens of percussion and submarine shells which have been extensively used in blowing up vessels, removing harbor and river obstructions, and adapted to torpedo-steamers, &c.—the design and invention of Chief-Engineer Wood, United States Navy. The torpedoes were placed on board of the United States torpedo-steamer Naubuc, which sailed from the Navy-yard on Tuesday, and anchored below Governor's Island, where the tests were made, in the presence of the following distinguished gentlemen: Rear-Admiral Gregory; A. A. Low, Esq., President of the Chamber of Commerce; Capt. Bythssa, of H. B. M. Navy; Capt. Kichkin, Engineer in the Russian Imperial Fleet; Capt. Mordier, of the French navy; Commodore Ringgold, Capt. Warden, Chief Engineer Wood, the inventor, and others. Shells were exploded at the depth of 15 feet, and one from the bow, in the usual shape of a buoyant percussion shell, containing a charge of 60 pounds, which raised a large column of water, submarine shells, &c. This torpedo was exploded about one-quarter of a mile from the vessel, near Governor's Island, with terrible effect. The tests were most gratifying and successful, there being no failure in any case, the time occupied being but a very few minutes, clearly demonstrating the efficiency and destructive power of these torpedoes. One of the most accomplished men in the British Navy, Capt. Bythessa, said there could be no doubt of their efficiency.

It may be noticed here, to correct a misapprehension and subserve historic truth, that it was by the aid of these shells that the American fleet had free passage up the James River. The little torpedo Spuyten Duyvil, cleared the channel of the James in the early part of April, by shells of 450 and 460 pounds, blowing up iron-clads and wooden steamers, and allowing vessels of 11 feet draught to sail up the river. Afterward the débris, on each side of the channel, consisting of fragments of vessels, was removed by Prof. Maillefort, by an entirely different shell from that used by the Spuyten Duyvil.

Twenty-Second Academic Year of the Mount Washington Collegiate Institute.

The Broadway Theatre was filled to overflowing yesterday afternoon by the friends and relatives of the pupils, and the public generally, to listen to the order of exercises. Cook's band, belonging to the theatre, was in attendance, and discoursed some beautiful pieces of music.

The proceedings were opened with prayer by the Rev. Dr. Crosby, who said, that if there were anything dearer to him than another it was the education of children. He had labored zealously in this field, and he believed that the seed he had sown would bear fruit in due season. He congratulated the scholars who were present on their healthy condition, and prayed God that he would give to them nerve and strength enough to go through creditably the exercises of the day. He called on all to reverence the name of the Saviour, and to bow decorously, devoutly, and humbly to Him, in whom we live, and move, and have our being.

A salutatory address was delivered by John W. Dalrymple, of the junior department, which was well received. "I'll be a Man," "A Hint on Business," "Flag of the Free," and "Our Late President," were presented with much pleasure to the audience. The oration, "Our Martyred Heroes," by Lawton S. Brooks, was received with much applause; also, "Oliver Goldsmith," by Walter Brainerd. The orations, on "New-York City," by Daniel A. Nesbitt; "Cardinal Woolsey and Sir Thomas Moore," by Thomas B. Clarke, and "Edward Everett," by John W. Aitken, were also meritorious.

The diplomas were then presented by the principal to the graduating class, as follows:

John Olendorf, Jr., (Salutatorian,) John W. Aitken, Walter Brainerd, Lawton S. Brooks, Thos. B. Clarke, John M. Clarke, Fred. G. Conkling, Wm. H. Dickinson, Wm. H. Edwards, Walter C. Hubbard, Daniel A. Nesbitt, Peter P. Noe, Wm. F. Taylor.

Then was enacted a scene from the French comedy, entitled "Asinus Asinum Fricat," by Eugene Scribe. The performance of Ledru (a bogus professor,) by Charles S. Withington, and M. Cinglaut (a country schoolmaster,) by Daniel A. Nesbitt, were especially well rendered.

After music by the band, the comedy of "The Man with the Carpet Bag" was presented. All did their parts remarkably well, particularly John, a waiter in a London inn, who portrayed forcibly and well that type of humanity, which, in our country, is unknown, and which, even in England, owing to steam communications and facilities of travel, is fast becoming extinct. The jovial, fat, rosy, rubicund landlord of a country inn was well represented by Mr. John C. Tappin. A sharp, griping, avaricious attorney was damirably personated by E. P. Mitchell, and the magistrate, Pluckwell, "with full capon lined," afforded considerable amusement.

The benediction was then pronounced, and the audience dispersed.

Girls' Grammar School No. 48—Commencement.

This commencement was celebrated yesterday, at the school building, No. 48 Twenty-eighth-street. About five hundred pupils were present—the girls tastefully attired in white. The very pleasing exercises were commenced by the reading of the scriptures, prayer, chant and anthems.

Rev. Thomas Street delivered an affectionate and able address to the scholars.

Several recitations were then delivered, in which Miss McAllister particularly distinguished herself, in presenting a composition entitled "The Nation's Jubilee," which was received with applause.

Mr. Williams, on behalf of the pupils, presented to Miss Isabella Hill, Principal of the school, copies of Tennyson's and Longfellow's poems, for which she briefly returned thanks. Miss Colwell was also presented with copies of the above works.

Hon. Judge Daly was then introduced, and delivered an address alluding to the hopes, joys, trials and sufferings of women. He believed that a woman's true sphere was in her household duties; domesticity and religion should be her rule of conduct, and she should endeavor as much as possible to alleviate the distresses of her tyrant—man. He warmly congratulated the pupils upon the efficiency they had exhibited in the exercises that had been presented, and hoped that this successful exhibition would be pregnant with fruitful results.

A parting song was given by the entire school, an address delivered by Rev. G. Alex. Peltz, the benediction pronounced, and the audience dispersed.

The names of the graduates are as follows: Mary A. Frost, Anna L. Farquhar, Katie Joes, Lizzie Fleming, Sarah E. Many, Mary L. Mitchell, Lizzie Griffiths, Rebecca McAllister, Mary Orr, Louisa Seaman, Rosa Vice, Hattie Winkle.

Commissioners of Charities and Correction.

A contract for furnishing meat during the next year was awarded to Charles E. Revere for the up-town institutions, at $8 90 per 100 pounds; to P. W. Lowrie & Co. for the correctionarp institutions, at $5 50 for beef; and for mutton, at $7 49 to Charles Johnson.

Commissioner Nicholson moved the following resolution, which was carried:

Resolved, That it be referred to a committee to report in relation to establishing at the Dead House in Bellevue Hospital a receptacle for the identification of persons who may be found drowned or otherwise come to a sudden death in this city and county on the principle of the Morgue of Paris, and that they obtain such information as will enable this Board to adopt rules and regulations to successfully carry into execution the object of this resolution.

Commissioners Nicholson and Bowen were appointed such committee.

The Fourth at Albany.

By resolution adopted by both Houses of the Legislature at Albany, prior to the adjournment, the Governor was requested to preside at a presentation of the flags of New-York regiments that might have returned home at that time. Gov. Fenton cordially acceded to the request, and on Tuesday next there will be an intermingling of flags and a reunion of their defenders that is not likely to be seen again. As it is impossible that representative officers of all the regiments who fought under these flags can be present, an excellent officer, and withal, well-chosen representative, in the person of Maj.-Gen. Butterfield, will be there on the occasion, who will no doubt do his devoir as a speaker as creditably and honorably as he did his devoir when meeting the enemies of the Union on the battle-field. The flags of some eighty regiments will be presented. It is almost certain that Gen. Grant will be there; Gen. Hooker is also expected, and Gens. Slocum and Peck have been invited, with many other officers of note. Officers and honorable members will be the guests of the Governor, who purposes to run them to Saratoga, where the day will be grandly closed by festivities commemorative not only of Independence Day, but of the capture of Vicksburgh by Unconditional U. S. Grant.

THE FOURTH AT MOTT HAVEN, WESTCHESTER COUNTY.—The patriotic citizens of this town have provided liberally for celebrating the Fourth. Salutes will be fired, bells rung, an oration delivered, the Declaration of Independence read, singing by the children of the schools, a dinner to the returned volunteers of the town, and the day's festivities will end with a grand display of fireworks.

CONDITION OF THE STREETS

The Leading Thoroughfares First Put In "Apple-Pie Order."

Scavengering Now in the Hands of the Contractors.

$800,000 EXPENDED LAST YEAR.

MR. BOOLE'S VALEDICTORY REMARKS.

The City Inspector and several gentlemen connected with his department, accompanied by the representatives of the press, yesterday made their annual tour of the city to inspect the condition of the streets, so far as relates to their cleanliness. The party first visited the eastern side of the city, passing through Frankfort, Dover, Forsyth, Water, Rutgers, Baxter, Pitt, Broome, Mulberry, Bleecker, the Bowery, and First and Second avenues, and thence passed to the west side for the purpose of inspecting the swill-milk establishments and the abattoirs in Thirty-ninth-street. The route taken included the very worst portions of the city, so far as cleanliness is concerned, and where the rate of mortality ranges the highest. Dover-street, one of the first visited, was found to be quite as clean as Broadway is at the present time, notwithstanding the fact that the inhabitants are principally poor people. From Dover-street the party passed into Water-street, with its low groggeries and dance-houses, sailors' boarding-houses and junk shops. This street, from the constant traffic passing through it, is in very bad condition. The holes worn in the pavement allow the accumulation of stagnant water; but this can hardly be laid to the account of the City Inspector. Water and filth will accumulate in these holes in defiance of all efforts to keep the streets clean. From Water-street a visit was paid to Roosevelt-street, Oliver, Market, Gouverneur and Grand streets. The pavement in the last-named street is also in bad condition, and small pools of stagnant water were occasionally to be met with. Pitt-street was one of the dirtiest streets visited, but it is only fair to say that the filth appeared to be principally garbage, which had been thrown out very recently, and was not in a state of decomposition. Baxter-street was somewhat similar. The upper part of First and Second-avenues is occupied by the large iron firms, who appear to think that they have a prescriptive right to that portion of the streets in front of their premises. It is almost needless to say that, in front of these establishments, there were mounds of earth and ashes which render the streets in parts almost impassable. Those who place these obstructions there ought to be compelled to remove them forthwith. The western part of the city was next visited. A passing glance was afforded at the swill-milk establishments, and at the bone and fat-boiling establishments in Abattoir-place, leading from Thirty-ninth-street. The gutters in Abattoir-place are filled with green stagnant water, and the fumes from the establishments are sufficient to sicken anyone coming within a mile of them. Fortunately, this neighborhood is not thickly populated; but will it be believed that similar establishments exist in Elizabeth-street, surrounded by crowded tenement-houses? In this street is a fat-boiling house, belonging to one of the wealthiest firms in the city, the fumes from which establishment are sufficient to nauseate the strongest stomach. The City Inspector has repeatedly called the attention of the Mayor and the Common Council to these nuisances, having no power whatever to remove them himself; but, from some cause or other, no action has ever been taken in the matter.

After the inspection, the party partook of a collation at Delmonico's, when Mr. Boole explained that the annual tour of inspection this year had been made somewhat earlier than usual, as to-day, Saturday, the contractors take the work out of his hands. He said he wished to show that the streets were delivered up to them in a cleanly condition, and that they had now only to keep them so. There were no accumulations of filth to be found. He had, he said, opposed the giving out of a contract for cleaning the streets simply because he felt sure the work could not be done for the money offered, but finding the commissioners desirous of making a contract with some one, he had then voted with the others. The contractors were experienced men, and would, doubtless, do all they could, and he was quite sure they would earn their money. For his part he would afford them all the assistance that lay in his power, but at the same time he warned them that he would compel them to comply with the terms of their contract, and if he found any shortcomings he would immediately lodge a complaint with the commission. Mr. Boole then proceeded to speak of his own efforts in the work of keeping the city clean. Last year he said it cost $800,000, of which $150,000 was the work of the Hecker injunction. While this injunction was pending the dirt accumulated to such an extent that it cost all this sum to place the city in its former condition. The contractors, he said, had a heavy job before them. There were 240 miles of streets to be cleaned, comprising 1,100 acres of ground. The ash carts daily traveled over 500 miles of route. He said it was satisfactory to know that the mortality of the city during the six months just ended was 450 less than during the corresponding six months of last year. He merely stated the fact, leaving the causes to be determined by others. He controverted the opinion that dirty streets were the cause of death, at least to any extent. Where one died from the effluvia or miasma arising from the dirt of the streets, hundreds died from over-crowded and badly-ventilated tenement-houses. He was, he said, having a list of these houses made, with the number of occupants, size of rooms, and names of owners of the property. Among the owners of some of the most crowded and horrible places in the city would be found the names of two of the most prominent advocates of the Health Bill. The list would be ready in a short time, and he would then invite citizens to inspect it.

Soon after the party broke up, Mr. Boole proceeded to his office and formally confided the care of the streets to the contractors, Messrs. Brown, Devoe and Knapp, who commence their operations to-day.

Our reporter, who accompanied the City Inspector's party, is able to state that the streets through which he passed, with the exceptions already stated, were as clean as those of any large city are ever likely to be. There were no piles of ashes or dirt, though garbage, recently thrown out, was to be found in all the smaller streets. This is undoubtedly the season of the year in which it is easiest to keep the streets clean, but he was agreeably surprised to find them in their present condition. If the contractors can only succeed in maintaining the same state of cleanliness throughout the Summer there will be little to complain of.

COST OF THE WAR.

What the City and County of New-York Have Done.

Men Furnished and Public Funds Expended.

To the Honorable the Board of Supervisors:

The Special Committee on Volunteering would respectfully

REPORT:

That they have in course of preparation their full and complete report of operations in filling the quota under the last call for three hundred thousand (300,000) men. They are delayed in submitting the same, in consequence of the incompleteness of the account with the State relating to reimbursement for bounties paid for men raised under the last call, provided for by the Bounty Law of 1865.

In the meantime, however, your committee have been called upon to furnish the United States authorities with a full statement of men furnished and moneys paid by the City and County of New-York during the war.

Accordingly your committee have had carefully prepared an elaborate statement, showing the whole business of the City and County of New-York in recruiting and in expenditures for recruiting, and for all other purposes connected with the war: which statement, with the correspondence on this subject, will be found appended hereto.

This paper it is thought proper to officially lay before your Honorable Body for your information.

The figures presented are in detail, and your committee believe give the fullest and clearest view of this subject which has ever yet been presented.

The statements will repay attentive perusal. They show that the whole number of men enlisted in this city and county during the rebellion, credited and not credited, was as follows:

By the City—Prior to August, 1863	63,430
By the County—After August, 1863	52,952

The number who received bounty represented the following years of service:

County	10,099,743 30
Total expenditure	$17,512,673 19

Of the above amount there was expended for bounties and premiums, and all expenses connected with bounties and recruiting:

City	$494,648 38
County	10,099,743 30
Total	$10,594,391 68

There was expended for purposes not connected with bounties and recruiting:

City	$6,918,281 51
County	nothing

Of the amount expended by the city, there has been reimbursed from the National Treasury, on account of equipments furnished city regiments at the outbreak of the rebellion.......... $39,458 54

Reimbursed the County by the State, on account of expenditures for bounties under the last call	$2,146,000 00
Yet claimed, but not determined, about	750,000 00
Total reimbursed County		2,896,000 00
Total reimbursed City and County		$2,935,458 54

Deducting the above for the total expenditures, it leaves the following net expenditure:

City	$7,373,471 35
County	7,203,743 30

CORRESPONDENCE.

Under date of June 14, 1865, Provost-Marshal-General FRY asks information of Brevet Lieut.-Col. R. J. DODGE, A. A. Provost-Marshal-General, New-York City, to be obtained from the most reliable sources as to the exact amount, (if possible,) or the average amount of bounty, (other than paid by the United States,) which has been paid for men put into the service in each district under his supervision, under each call heretofore made for troops, and requests a report upon each call separately.

This note of Gen. FRY was forwarded to Mr. ORISON BLUNT on the 16th inst., and on the 26th he replied:

"The City and County of New-York have never paid bounties by districts, and it is therefore impossible to answer your inquiry in that shape. Bounties always having been paid in gross for the whole city and county, the statements which are annexed hereto are made up in that form.

This Statement embraces a strict account of all the public moneys disbursed, both by the city and county, on account of the war.

It also embraces a full statement of all the men enlisted in this city and county, excepting the proportion of naval enlistments, credit for which was allowed us Dec. 23, 1864, and taken from us Jan. 24, 1865, under the last call, and the services of our militia during the war, for which latter credit has never been allowed."

Add for all other expenses connected with the above	59,407 55

* It will be noticed that this total falls considerably short of the quota. The balance was made up on the call for 5th January, when many drafted men furnished their own substitutes, and paid their own commutation, of which of course we have no record, nor any means of ascertaining the figures. There can be no doubt, however, that it averaged $300 per man, which for 1,463 men, would be an additional expenditure for bounties of $438,900.

SERENADE TO GEN. ROSECRANS.

Brilliant Festivities at Llewellyn Park, N. J.—Fashionable Gathering of the Residents—Parting Soiree to the Hero of Stone River.

On Thursday evening Gen. WM. S. ROSECRANS was complimented with a serenade by the residents of Llewellyn Park, on the occasion of his departure for Nevada, whither he goes on an inspecting tour, having received a six months' furlough for that purpose.

Gen. ROSECRANS has, for some days, been visiting his brother-in-law, WM. HEGEMAN, Esq., at "Castlewood," the beautiful residence of the latter, situated in Llewellyn Park, on Orange Mountain, N. J. The General being about to depart for San Francisco to-day, (Saturday,) the wealthy residents of the Park determined to tender him their parting adieux in a serenade, Helmsmuller's Twenty-second Regiment Band, of this city, having been engaged for the purpose.

At an early hour Thursday evening, "Castlewood" was thronged with a large and fashionable gathering, and as the rooms gradually filled with the arriving guests, the scene presented groups of fashion and beauty rarely met with. The building itself was brilliant in appearance, being gaily decorated from turret to foundation stone, with glowing Chinese lanterns shedding their soft light over lawn and shrubbery with delightful effect. At the entrance to the grounds was erected a triumphal arch of evergreens and national flags. Over the arch was placed transparencies bearing the name "Rosecrans," supported by the words "Rich Mountain," "I-u-k-a," "Corinth," "Stone River" and "Chattanooga." The arch was surmounted by a magnificent wreath of roses, emblematical of the first syllable of the General's name.

Among the guests of the evening we noticed Mr. L. S. HASKELL, wife and daughter, Mr. T. MERRICK, wife and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. WM. GALLATHY, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. STONE, Mr. and Mrs. AUGMOORE, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. A. FULLER, Mrs. GILLMORE and daughter, Mrs. E. C. BURT, Mrs. WM. LACONEY and daughter, Mr. WM. MASON, the pianist, accompanied by his wife, Mrs. D. T. HEALD and daughter, Mrs. I. L. MERRILL, Mrs. F. H. ABBOTT and daughter, Miss A. L. FOWLER, M. D., Mr. ISAAC ROSENFELD, Jr., and the gentlemen whose ladies are enumerated above. The host, assisted by his amiable lady and daughters, exerted themselves with pleasing earnestness to entertain their guests, and with eminent success.

Shortly after 9 o'clock the band made its appearance upon the lawn, when the serenade commenced. Nearly all of the guests of the evening descended to the soft velvet sward, listening to the delicious strains sweetly floating through the cool night air, and otherwise enjoying themselves. As soon as the second piece upon the programme had been performed, Mr. W. J. A. FULLER, of Llewellyn Park, addressed the little social gathering grouped upon the lawn. He said:

SPEECH OF MR FULLER.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: I do not intend to make a speech; I hope Gen. ROSECRANS will do that. I can say nothing that will heighten your admiration or intensify your regard for the gallant soldier who has shed such lustre on the American name. On the eve of his departure for the Pacific slope we have thought it fitting to testify our respect for the brave soldier, the true patriot, the honest man. He will be sure to find a cordial greeting wherever he goes, for he can go nowhere where his name and his fame have not preceded him. Gentlemen, I propose three cheers for Gen. ROSECRANS.

The call was responded to with heartiness and enthusiasm, being further embellished by a "tiger." The General leaned from the balcony, and replied as follows:

SPEECH OF GEN. ROSECRANS.

It becomes me to express the gratitude I feel for the compliment you have paid me this evening. I take this occasion to thank you for the compliment you paid to me in this place, through my wife, two years ago. It was peculiarly acceptable to me at that time, when we were far away, and there was some doubt as to the issue of the then pending operations. The account of your proceedings was read by the army with gratification, every soldier justly taking it as a compliment to himself. Now that the war is over, and peace once more prevails throughout the land, I am glad to be able to greet you in this beautiful vale, this happy valley. I congratulate you that we can look each other in the face and know that the life of the nation is assured, for without unity we can have no national life. I always had faith in free governments; but I saw in this an element that was likely to work its destruction. But, through the providence of God, we find ourselves the most powerful nation on earth, having overcome the greatest rebellion ever known in history. Education must now complete the work. And I think that any one who will exert himself, or herself, to carry out the great project of educating the people of the revolted States, will have fought a battle as great and glorious as any fought by the soldiers. I can only renew my thanks for your kindness. I will not say farewell; but I will say that if it was in my power I would have Orange Mountain always look as beautiful and the people as young as they appear to-night. Again I thank you for your kindness.

Three cheers were again called for by a gentleman in the crowd, and they were given with a will.

After some additional airs—patriotic and operatic—from the band, during which the company clustered round the General and bade him a regretful farewell, the serenade came to a successful close about midnight, and the soiree broke up, every participant in the evening's amusement feeling gratified to the last degree.

FRIDAY, June 30—P. M.

The Gold speculation was 1½ to 2 per cent. firmer to-day than on Friday, opening at 139 and advancing to 140½ ℘ cent. The contracts of four days are made to mature to-morrow, under a resolution of the Gold Room, suddenly adopted this morning. This, of course, operates in favor of the cash price, and a very large amount being withheld from employment in the market by the parties to the present Bull movement, the corner on the settlements to be made to-morrow threatens to be costly to the Bears, unless the first disbursements from the Treasury Office for July Interest should come into market to their relief.

The rates of Exchange on London for Saturday's steamers are 108⅝@109 ℘ cent. for Bankers' bills; a fair demand to-day. There is no export inquiry, of course, for Gold at these rates, and the demand to pay in for Customs, which has ruled active throughout the month of June, will not be so sensibly felt in the market after the Treasury Office commences disbursing the July interest.

Money keeps very easy to the Brokers at 4@5 ℘ cent., and lenders are ready to place large sums at call over the Fourth of July vacation.

The Stock Exchange improved 1 to 2 per cent. on the Railway speculation to-day; the demand being most buoyant at the Second Board, in the afternoon. The prevailing opinion among the buyers of stocks to-day is that after the vacation of the Fourth there is to be a more active and better sustained market than through the closing weeks of the month of June. This feeling was assisted by the traffic reports of the week from some of the Western roads, and of the rapidly increasing coal tonnage of the Reading road, and also by the marked and pressing abundance of money on Wall-street, at low rates of interest.

The Government Stocks were also generally firmer, and the Miscellaneous Shares higher on Quicksilver Mining and Atlantic Mail. The latter is 154 after the 25 ℘ cent. Dividend is taken off, and the friends of the Stock predict an early additional advance to 175 ℘ cent., ex-dividend, equal to 200 ℘ cent. before the dividend.

At 4 o'clock the following quotations were made, as compared with Thursday afternoon. The purchases of Erie for a prominent house on the Street, to-day, are said to exceed 5,000 shares. The General Market left off firm on a large movement in the Railways; Gold 141 ℘ cent.:

	Thurs.	Fri.		Thurs.	Fri.

*Ex-Dividend.

The rise in Erie, for several days past, appears to have followed the recent remittances of the Stock to England, which, with some other withdrawals from the market, have created an involuntary corner, notwithstanding the prevalent practice, not only among the Brokers, but with many of the outside holders of the Stock, of lending the use of their Certificates. One of the latter, who confesses to lending his Certificates for the trifling advantage of using the Money interest free, writes to us that he will do nothing of the sort hereafter, and begs that we will suggest to all other Erie holders not to suffer their Stock to pass out of their hands until they are satisfied to sell it out and out at the going market. After all, however, there may possibly be two sides to the question. The more the Stock is lent in the Street, (say many of the old Brokers,) the better for the market when the short interest comes to be settled up on a buoyant speculation.

We correct, with all promptness, an error in our last paper in reference to Mr. WILSON G. HUNT, of the Free Trade League. He is not an Importing Merchant, at present, having several years since retired from all active business. Nor is he opposed to contributing to the annual support of the Public Debt, through a Tariff of Revenue, adjusted to about an average of 30 ℘ cent. ad valorem, as opposed to the existing Tariff, many of the higher rates and details of which, in his opinion, defeat the object of revenue.

Messrs. WILLIAM B. DANA & Co., the proprietors of Hunt's Mercahnts' Magazine, will issue, to-morrow, July 1, the initial number of a weekly journal devoted to commerce and finance, on the model of the London Economist, under the title of the Commercial and Financial Chronicle, supported by an able staff of contributors and the editorial experience of the senior publisher. We refer, with pleasure, to the advertisement of this new enterprise, in another part of this paper.

Among the 1st of July changes among the Stock firms, we notice that Mr. JAMES M. BOYD, a member of the Stock Exchange Board, and Mr. JOHN W. VINCENT, both for several years in the employ of Messrs. DAVID GROESBECK & Co., are admitted partners in the house.

The Evening Stock Exchange has been organized into a Joint Sock Company, with a capital of $500,000, divided into 20,000 shares of $25 each. The Trustees are: Robt. H. Gallaher, Wm. M. Parke, Warren Kimball, B. Frank Gallaher, Charles P. Currie, John F. Pickrell, A. E. Laing and Robert Sewell. R. H. Gallaher is President, William M. Parkes, Treasurer, and J. T. Winchester, Secretary and Assistant Treasurer.

Mr. JOHN J. DAUCHY, with Messrs. JOHN R. GARLAND & Co., was to-day admitted to membership at the New-York Stock Exchange Board.

The Stock Exchange, in order to avoid the great multiplication of certified Checks between the Brokers and the tax thereon as Bank Circulation, may be compelled to establish a Clearing-house of their own, or else resort to the London Stock Exchange practice of monthly or fortnightly accounts or settlements for each active Stock or other security dealt in. If the latter, the plan would in a great measure supersede the present system of options, of 3-10, 30 and 60 day options, and all time contracts would run for a particular account or settlement day. Thus if the settlement days for Erie were made the 1st and 15th of every month, the options would run flat, that is, free of interest, to any given settlement, not beyond 60 days, the present limit of registered time sales at the Board. A Clearing-house was suggested some months ago in connexion with a National Stock Exchange Bank, with a sufficient capital—to be owned and directed exclusively by the Exchange Board or its members—for keeping and settling the accounts of the Brokers, as between each other; and this plan, we believe, was seriously entertained by some of the oldest members of the Board. The Stock Exchange Brokers are already organized as a Building Association, with a capital of $350,000, for the convenience of dividing up among themselves the ownership, by shares, of their new property on Broad and New streets, which is calculated to pay a handsome rental, besides affording elegant and commodious rooms for the Exchange itself.

The Toledo Blade says that the Wabash Road is to be consolidated with the Great Western of Illinois, the Quincy and Toledo, and the Illinois and Southern Iowa. The vote of the Toledo and Wabash stockholders was 62,609 to 11,260 shares against the proposed consolidation. The other Companies are to vote on the question to-day. Their stockholders will probably be unanimous, as the Toledo and Wabash is certainly the vital element in the chain, and has most to lose by a questionable consolidation.

The annual meeting of the Bank of British North America was held in London on the 6th of June, when a statement was presented to the shareholders showing that, after providing for all bad and doubtful debts, the net profit of the Bank for the year 1864 amounted to £72,569 16s. 3d. sterling, and the rest or balance of undivided profit amounted, on Dec. 31, 1864, to £132,593 19s. 1d. A dividend was declared of 6 ℘ cent. ℘ annum; and, in addition, a bonus was appropriated of 10s. ℘ share—in all, 7 ℘ cent. The business of the Bank in Canada, New-Brunswick, Nova Scotia and British Columbia has been safe and profitable. The agents of the Bank in New-York, Messrs. W. WATSON and JAS. SMITH, draw and collect bills in the British Provinces and on the agency at San Francisco, and they also buy and sell exchange on London.

The Hanover Insurance Company has declared its usual semi-annual dividend of 6 ℘ cent., payable on demand.

The Directors of the Harmony Fire and Marine Insurance Company have declared a semi-annual dividend of five ℘ cent., payable on demand, free of income tax.

The Free Trade League.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

In your money article in this morning's paper, when noticing the announcement of The American Free Trade League, with which I have the honor to be associated, you indicate that my connection with the Trade League arises from my connection with British interests.

It happens oddly enough, that some 25 years ago, when I was one of the Vice-Presidents of the Liverpool Anti-Monopoly Association, which was, in point of fact, the Liverpool Branch of the Anti-Corn Law League, I was accused by the Tory monopolists of Liverpool; with being influenced by my American interests, to take the active part I did, in endeavoring to obtain the repeal of the Corn Laws, and the inauguration of the principles of Free Trade, because my family and myself had been intimately connected in business with the United States ever since the Revolution of 1776.

Now Free Trade may be wrong, and monopoly and a Japanese exclusiveness of dealing, may be right; but my opinion is that the former is right under all circumstances, and between all nations, and I advocated the repeal of the Corn Laws in England from 1838 to 1844, just as I do the repeal of a Protective Tariff now, from no narrow national or sectional feeling, but simply because I believed then, as I do now, that Free Trade is for the interest of both the United States and Britain, and of all other nations, and that the so-called "protective" system, is only robbery of the consumer, under pretence of benefiting the producer.

"The American Free Trade League is loyally willing to submit to all taxation necessary for Government revenue, but protest against being taxed one cent, directly or indirectly, for the so-called 'protection' of any private interest whatever."

The members of the American Free Trade League believe that by the adoption of Free Trade legislation the amount of revenue necessary to meet promptly all the engagements of the government, whether in specie or in currency, can be raised with less annoyance to the tax-payer than under any other system. And I put it to yourself, whether under her Free Trade system, Great Britain does not meet her enormous burden of taxation much more easily than under her former system of "protection."

Being an American citizen from adoption, and not merely from being "the accident of an accident," I conceive that I am fully justified in advocating any system which I may believe to be conducive to the interest of my adopted country, without being twitted with the insinuation that I do so to subserve British interests.

Shipments for week, 7,064 bbls. The Wheat market during the past week has been quite active, but the purchases have been more on local speculative account than for shipment. The arrivals have continued as large as during the few weeks previous, and the stock has increased. Considerable rain has fallen, and everything now looks favorable for an excellent crop. All these circumstances have tended to depress the market, and we have to advise a decline of 2c. ℘ bushel since the date of our last weekly review. The quantity received during the week is slightly larger than during corresponding time last year. It will be remembered it was at this time last year that the alarm became general in regard to damage done by the drought, and farmers in this State stopped delivering and became buyers. The stock in store has increased to about 575,000 bushels. Lake freights have taken a slight turn downward. We quote at 6c. on wheat to Buffalo, and 10c. to Oswego. We quote No. 1 Spring Wheat, in store, subject to 2c. ℘ bushel storage, at $1 09@$1 10. No. 2 at $1 05½@$1 06. Shipments for week sum up 137,188 bushels as follows: 40,000 bushels to Buffalo, 28,475 bushels to Oswego, 27,000 to Ogdensburgh, 41,824 bushels to Canada, and to other ports 275 bushels. The clearances of wheat since opening of navigation sum up as follows: 545,928 bushels to Buffalo, 255,553 bushels to Oswego, 100,335 bushels to Ogdensburgh, 705,133 bushels to Canada, and 16,875 bushels to other ports. Total, 1,623,824 bushels against 5,807,426 bushels during same time last year. Oats are held to-day at 45c. in store. The transactions are still rather moderate, but are growing larger with the increased receipts. Receipts for week, 29,768 bushels. NEWS OF THE DAY.

GENERAL NEWS.

Gen. ROSECRANS was serenaded at Llewellyn Park, Orange Mountain, N. J., on Thursday evening. The occasion was the departure of Gen. ROSECRANS for Nevada, where he goes on a visiting tour, having received a furlough of six months from the War Department. The serenade was accompanied by a brilliant soirée, given by the General's host, WM. HEGEMAN, Esq., and was highly successful throughout. Gen. ROSECRANS made a short speech, expressing his gratitude for the delicate compliment tendered him by the residents of Llewellyn Park.

Says the Richmond Republican of 29th June: "Notwithstanding the great precaution taken by Monsieur PAUL, the French Consul in this city, eight hundred and twenty-five hogsheads of the tobacco belonging to his government were burned in the Davenport warehouse. Four thousand five hundred hogsheads stored in other warehouses were saved, and are now being shipped for Havre. The Wheeler left this port for Havre yesterday, having on board one hundred and fifty hogsheads of this tobacco."

The full name of the man who permitted his horse to be driven to death between Boston and Portland, is EDWARD BRACKETT, of the former city. Let him be remembered; and let not FRANK BRIGGS, who drove the horse, be forgotten. Boston papers say many other persons were interested. If they are ambitious of immortality let them send in their names. It is not every day that men conspire to drive a horse to death, and these fellows should not miss such a chance to achieve imperishable fame.

The Shreveport (La.) News, of the 3d instant, after giving favorable accounts of all the crops in Texas, says: "In many parts of Texas the quantity of cotton planted is about equal to the crop of former years, but in this part of Louisiana and in the adjoining portions of Texas, the quantity planted is quite limited, not more, we would say, than the fifth of a crop.

Mrs. Dr. WALKER, of the United States Army, who was arrested by the Confederate authorities about twelve months since in male habiliments, and confined in Castle Thunder for several weeks, recently paid a visit to her old place of imprisonment. She spent some time in going through the building, a privilege she never enjoyed before, though a guest at the place.

A terrific tornado recently passed through Birmingham, Conn., causing much destruction of property. Among other freaks, the horse-shed to the Methodist Church, one hundred feet in length, was lifted and carried ten feet from the foundation and dropped on an open lot a mass of ruins.

Gen. R. E. LEE and family left the city on the 28th ult. for Cartersville, Cumberland County, near which place they will occupy, for the Summer, a cottage on a small farm. A citizen of Richmond has proffered him one of the finest farms in Orange County, which another offered to stock. The offer was declined.

A blacksmith at Versailles is said to have discovered a composition almost as hard as iron, which can be applied under the hoof without causing the horse the slightest pain, and costs seventy-five per cent. less than ordinary horse-shoes.

It is reported that Atlanta, Ga., is being rebuilt much more rapidly than could have been anticipated. Business is beginning to be quite brisk. Many families which went North after Gen. SHERMAN'S evacuation, are about returning.

The Third Maine Battery, which was paid off at Augusta last week, took $12,000 of the seven-thirty bonds, an average of more than $160 per man. The paymaster had an agent for the sale of the bonds by his side when he paid the men.

The Milwaukee Sentinel says a dispatch was received in that city from Keokuk on Monday, stating that Major-Gen. CURTIS had fractured both his arms. No particulars were given.

Judge TRIGG, of East Tennessee, recently charged the Grand Jury to indict Gov. BROWNLOW for executing the laws. The jury unanimously refused to find a bill.

The St. Louis Democrat says the new Constitution is adopted by more than 3,000 majority. Without the soldiers' vote it would have been lost.

Prof. BLAKE leaves to-day for his home in California.

The Supreme Court, at Special Term, yesterday, rendered a decision in the matter of the Commissioners of the Croton Aqueduct Department. This case has been in the courts for several months past. There was less activity in Cotton and Flour yesterday at lower and declining prices. Wheat, Corn and new Mess Pork were in fair demand but cheaper. Sugars were salable and buoyant. Petroleum was quiet and depressed. Whisky was more sought after and was dearer. The freight market was more active and firmer, with quite respectable engagements of grain and tobacco reported. Other branches of trade presented no really new features.

The price of Gold was 1¼@2 ℘ cent. higher yesterday than the day before. The Stock market was also 1@2 ℘ cent. higher and quite buoyant on the Railway speculation in the afternoon. Exchange 108¾@109 on London for Gold. Government Stocks were firmer.

What Shall be the Southern Representation?

Emancipation, by making an end of the three-fifths slave basis of the constitution, increases the representation of the South in the Federal Congress and the Electoral College thirteen votes, taking the last census and apportionment as the standards. One of the arguments most strongly urged by the advocates of immediate and universal freedmen suffrage, is that without this regulation, a vote in the South will have twice the political power of a vote in the North. While, under slavery, the Southern vote, cast by the white man, carried three-fifths more power than a northern vote, it would now, they say, carry five-fifths more. It is contended that the only way to prevent this is to dilute the power of each individual vote by converting the freedmen into voters.

Now our prosuffrage friends are altogether too fast for their own consistency. They complain that the South will gain political power by the result of the rebellion, and yet they themselves are the very first to open the way for it. Why this haste to concede to the South those thirteen additional members? The apportionment of all the States has already been fixed by law until 1871, when a new apportionment will be made on the census of 1870. The present representation for all the States is based on the census of 1860, taken before the rebellion; and it would require an express and exceptional law to make a new census and apportionment before the expiration of the decade. We do not believe that loyal people will favor any such change.

Why should a special exception now be made for the South that was never made for the West? Five years after the census of 1850, the Western States would have been entitled, by virtue of its increase of population, to at least twenty members more than was apportioned to them on that census. Yet for all that, they had to wait for the new census and apportionment of 1860, before obtaining their just, representation. Why should not the Southern States wait for the same period, until the census of 1870, before obtaining the thirteen members to which they have become entitled by virtue of their rebellion? Is it not enough that the census of 1860 gave them nineteen members for slaves, which they called property, when no part of the property of the North was directly represented?

It seems to us that there is no call for any alteration in the apportionment until the next regular census. There are very strong reasons against it. It would be unprecedented to alter the apportionment after it has been fixed on a decennial census, until the next census. To take a new census at this time, would be a very difficult and very expensive operation. To give the South its proportionate increase of members, reckoning on the last census, would be extremely unfair; for while the North has made a considerable increase to its population since that time, it is very certain that the South has positively decreased. It is said that the black population alone has been diminished one million. We can hardly believe that; but unquestionably the war has, in various ways, largely reduced their numbers. Gov. BANKS, in one of his late reports, calculates that the war has caused the death of more than half of the slaves of Louisiana. The same agencies which produced this terrible destruction there, have been at work in every Southern State, though less actively. It is safe to say that at least half a million of Southern whites have perished in battle, or by the hardships and privations attending the war. Probably, were a new census to be taken to-morrow, it would be found that instead of gaining thirteen members by the conversion of slaves into freedmen, the South would actually lose as large a number as that in consequence of its loss in aggregate population. It would be the grossest injustice to give the South thirteen new members without testing their actual present population by a new census.

But yet again, all true policy forbids this stretch of liberality to those who were so recently active rebels. No alteration of law and established usage should be made in their favor when it is still uncertain what is to be their spirit toward the government. It is meet, at least, that they should prove that they would use their new power loyally before we step out of our way to consign it to them. Common prudence requires that before we change the apportionment, so as to give the South thirteen more votes in the three next Congresses, and in the Presidental election of 1868, we had better thoroughly assure ourselves that these votes will retain none of the odor of this infernal rebellion.

We know that these advocates of universal freedmen suffrage assume that that suffrage would be cast for Union men of the strongest sort. This is pure assumption. The bulk of that vote more likely would be cast to suit the views of the principal employers of the freedmen, the planters, who, as a class, were strongly rebel, and are still strongly malcontent. There can yet be no certainty whether the suffrage of the freedmen, ignorant and dependent as they are, would not actually strengthen the same class rule which has always heretofore controlled and cursed the South. In this uncertainty, those who have always denounced that rule should be the very last men to advocate a measure, the very first effect of which, according to their own argument, must be to add thirteen Southern votes in the national councils. They of all people should patiently await further developments of the Southern spirit and purpose, before venturing upon decisive action.

A MORGUE TO BE ESTABLISHED.—We are glad to notice that the matter of establishing a proper receptacle for the remains of the unknown dead is at last receiving the attention of the authorities. The subject was yesterday under consideration by the Board of Supervisors, and also by the Commissioners of Charities and Corrections. The necessity for such an establishment has long been felt. Last year, the records of the coroner's office showed that no less than three hundred interments of unknown people had been made at Potter's Field. This is an appalling and a shameful fact. Scarcely a day passes that we do not report some unfortunate "found drowned," and the publicity thus given by the journals to such events, has been the sole opportunity afforded the friends of missing persons for gaining information. A small and very inconvenient dead-house at Bellevue Hospital has been hitherto the only place of temporary deposit for those dead taken from the rivers and out of the streets, and often it has been absolutely necessary to remove remains from this over-crowded receptacle before a reasonable time had elapsed to claim or recognize them.

Who can tell how often crimes have been cloaked and justice defeated by this lack of publicity and indecent haste of burial? The Coroners claim that they are destitute of authority to advertise cases of unrecognized bodies, giving a minute description of the clothing and features or other peculiarities of the remains. A fund for such a purpose should be at once placed at their disposal, and it is not creditable to the humanity of the city that the matter has been managed so carelessly. In the construction of the proposed morgue we trust that the arrangements will be so complete as to obviate these evils altogether.

Progress of the Popular Loan Negotiation.

The popular demand for the new series of the National 7-30 Loan has been quite active through the week, especially in the line of the orders for the smaller denominations of the notes, which have reached a much higher daily average than in any week since the 7-30 Loan was first opened to the public.

The sales of the Loan this week have averaged $2,385,637 a day, as follows: Monday, $2,258,550; Tuesday, $2,301,700; Wednesday, $2,451,300; Thursday, $2,531,000. The orders for the $50 and $100 notes of the Loan have averaged 3,917 a day, as follows: Monday, 1,578; Tuesday, 1,610; Wednesday, the amazing aggregate of 10,711; Thursday, 1,771.

The third series of the Loan has been marketed thus far at the weekly average rate of $11,926,632, as follows: Week ending with May 20, $12,106,700; May 27, $9,733,600; June 3, $6,681,600; June 10, $12,803,000; June 17, $11,925,000; June 24, $15,922,700; July 1 (partly estimated,) $14,313,822, making the total sales of this series, in the seven weeks which have elapsed since it was first formally opened to popular subscription (May 15,) $83,486,422, which leaves only $146,500,000 worth of the final issue of the notes yet to be disposed of.

At even the prevailing rate of distribution, this unmarketed balance will be closed out in about twelve weeks.

Of late, however, the absorption of the notes by the people has been increasing very encouragingly, and it is confidently expected that the popular orders will go on increasing in number and magnitude, proportioned to the rapid diminution in the available supply of the notes, which present unusual inducements to buyers for permanent investment. It may, therefore, be taken for granted that the whole of the Seven-Thirty loan will be in the hands of the people before the close of the coming month of August.

The Historic Army of the Potomac—Its Endurance—Its Sufferings and Its Glory.

Henceforth, when we speak of the Army of the Potomac, it will be as of a thing of the past. Its immediate commander, Gen. MEADE, has issued a farewell order, in which he announces that, by command of the President, that army has ceased to exist. Its work is done, its record is closed, and now only its traditions and its history remain.

Its history is precisely contemporaneous with the war, and covers its entire period. The Army of the Potomac fought the first battle of the war, fought ceaselessly during its continuance, and fought its last battle. Its career was opened with defeat, prosecuted for years amid misfortune and disaster, and closed with a triumph as complete and illustrious as any in the annals of war.

The work of this army was definite and simple from the beginning to the end. It was to capture the capital of the rebellious Confederacy. Its objective point was always Richmond. It tried to reach it by Manassas, by the Peninsula, by Mine Run, by Fredericksburgh, by Chancellorsville, by the Wilderness and Spottsylvania, and finally succeeded in reaching it by the south bank of the James. It fought a great battle for the same object in Pennsylvania, another in Maryland, and a dozen in the Shenandoah Valley. Nearly all its great actions were fought under different commanders—that of Manassas under MCDOWELL, the Peninsula and Antietam under MCCLELLAN, the Second Bull Run under POPE, Fredericksburgh under BURNSIDE, Chancellorsville under HOOKER, Gettysburgh under MEADE, while the last triumphant campaign was under the conduct of Lieut.-Gen. GRANT. It fought against three rebel commanders, BEAUREGARD at the opening, who was followed on the Peninsula by JOSEPH JOHNSTON, who in turn was succeeded by LEE. Though its purpose was always aggressive, and its aim always Richmond, the enemy frequently succeeded in throwing it on the defensive, and making its immediate object the salvation of Washington.

The Army of the Potomac, unlike most of our other armies, was unitary in its character, as well as in its work, from its organization until its dissolution. The old army of ROSECRANS, for example, was composed of two armies which had been brought together from different localities, after different histories. The late army of SHERMAN was composed of four distinct armies, each of which had had its own career, and all of which were only combined when Gen. GRANT was elevated to supreme power in the West, after the battle of Chickamauga. But the Army of the Potomac has been essentially one from the beginning, though at times large bodies of it have been detached from the main force and sent to different parts of Virginia on coöperative service.

The spirit which the Army of the Potomac has exhibited, throughout its varying career, has been worthy of the American character. It has been truly and grandly indomitable. There has been factiousness in the country, but none in the army. It has seemed sometimes as though the people would fall into despair, but no such feeling has ever had sway in the army. Portions of the people have made fierce outcries about the removal or appointment of certain Generals to command, but we have had no outcry about these matters from the army. We have seen this army waiting during the long months of inactivity, but it waited in patience. We have seen it suffering beyond measure in the deadly swamps of the Chickahominy, and thousands of brave men lying down there to die of disease; but it bore all with a proud, manly resignation, for the sake of the country. We have seen it led by incompetence to the most terrible and heart-rending defeats, but it never lost heart or hope. We have seen it try the issue twenty times with the enemy, but it was always ready to try it again. We have seen it encamped all Winter behind the defences of Petersburgh, exhibiting all the time the most dauntless fortitude. We have seen it strong after misfortune, calm after victory, heroic always.

Now that the rebellion is forever crushed, and the rebellious spirit entirely extinguished, we can afford to render a tribute of admiration also to the opposing army that fought under LEE. For an accursed cause, they struggled valiantly. They commanded the respect of those who fought against them in the field, and who acknowledge them to be worthy of their steel. Their defeat does not involve personal disgrace, and the way in which they have borne it does them honor.

The Army of the Potomac has always had the special attention and affection of the nation, as it always had the chief work of the nation's defence. Now that it has passed into history with its work consummated, the whole country will join with its late commander in bidding it an affectionate farewell.

The Debts of the South—A National Collection Agency.

The following in relation to the collection of debts in the South appears in an evening paper:

> "Are not the loyal merchants of the North, and the government, entitled to be furnished at once, and gratis, with the evidence on which they can recover by suit what is justly due them from those amnestied? In the meantime, there is nothing to prevent the business community from petitioning that those excepted from the general amnesty shall, as a condition precedent to pardon, pay what they owe, with interest."

The sheer absurdity of this proposal mitigates, in a measure, its mischievous tendency. Not one in a thousand, probably, of the persons living at the South, who stand in the relation of debtors to Northern citizens, are in a position to pay what they owe. The larger proportion of them were persons engaged in commerce when the war broke out. They belonged to the class who were least disposed, from self-interest, from taste, training, and habits of life, to rush into a political revolution. They were necessarily the first, if not ultimately, the heaviest sufferers by the war. The cessation of hostilities was the only hope they could cling to as an escape from absolute and irretrievable ruin. Their participation in the benfits of the general amnesty is an indispensable preliminary to their resumption of business. And it is in the face of these palpable facts that this unthinking zealot comes forward with his scheme for placing that portion of the Southern people most predisposed to support the Union—practically under perpetual political disability.

The President's proclamation makes no such invidious exception as is here recommended. And there is an excess of folly, therefore, in the assumption that under any pretext, that proclamation is now to be recalled and a substitute furnished providing for an army of bailiffs at the expense of the country to collect outstanding debts for Northern jobbing houses. Practically it would come to this, if every Southern man who should ask for pardon had to produce his accounts, and give bail to meet his liabilities. It would scarcely be more atrociously absurd to have these Southern debtors brought under bond to trade hereafter only with the houses that had formerly given them credit. When these advisers of the Executive desire to turn the National Government into a collection agency for the general dry-goods business, we do not see the use in stopping at half-way measures. A Sumptuary Bureau would probably come nearest their idea. To that Bureau every resident South of the Potomac might be compelled to make weekly reports of his domestic condition.

Our Foreign Relations—Their Satisfactory Aspect.

The steady rise of our bonds in the European market, and the enlarged demand that has recently sprung up for them there, is an evidence of the satisfactory relations of European governments with our own. It was feared, for a time, that the Mexican enlistments in this city, fictitious though they were known to be here, might lead to remonstrances on the part of France, and our credit was in consequence for a short time unfavorably affected; but the speedy and complete collapse of the entire movement, and the prompt action of the Government in preventing the sailing of a suspicious vessel from San Francisco, quickly restored confidence abroad.

The fact is, if we may take the solemn allegations of the leading statesmen of England and France, there is nothing they are more anxious to maintain than peace with the United States; and to that end, they will adopt all possible measures. England is even willing to discuss the question of paying damages for the injuries inflicted by the Alabama; and the official mouthpiece of the French Empire proclaims the anxiety of his government to find some feasible mode of escape from Mexico. There is no doubt that our government meets all this in a like conciliatory spirit; and there is no doubt that therein it is supported by the great body of the American people.

RETURNING REASON IN THE COAL TRADE.—The government has just been able to conclude two large purchases of coal by contract—the one for the navy and the other for the army—at the respective prices of $5 21 and $5 34 per ton. This is a hopeful sign for consumers generally. There is no reason why the retail price should be much higher than this. But it will be higher, doubtless, especially toward the Fall, when the consumption becomes greater. Prudent housekeepers, who can afford it, should look ahead a few months in securing their Winter supplies. They can now buy at about one-half what they had to pay five months ago. A word to the wise.

TWO LIVE KENTUCKIANS.—Gov. BRAMLETTE evidently does not belong to the Mallory school of fossils. He has his eyes open, and instead of butting his brains out against the solid facts of the day, he recognizes them, and governs himself accordingly. He very plainly tells the people of Kentucky that slavery is dead, and recommends that they at once proceed to install free labor in its place. This is sound sense. He does not stop to mourn over the dear departed, nor to quarrel with the manner of the taking off, but goes cheerfully to work to "bury his dead out of his sight," stow away the emblems of mourning, and urge his people to take their proper place in the ranks of the regenerated States. The Governor was more than kind to "the institution" during its mortal illness; but now that all is over, he presents a conspicuous example of common sense as well as loyalty—an example that the bats, of whom Mr. MALLORY is such an excellent specimen, would do well to follow. It should also be noted that the sometime head and front of rebellion in Kentucky, Gov. BERIAH MAGOFFIN, has come out emphatically for free labor; he, too, has taken a deliberate look at the defunct institution, and counts it past doctoring—its eyes are set. MAGOFFIN was one of the loudest and most active of the pro-slavery zealots, and did, perhaps, more than any other Kentuckian to drive that State into the secession conspiracy. The failure was from no fault of his, for he worked with almost superhuman energy to achieve success. When such high priests in the Southern ranks come over to the side of freedom and loyalty, we may reasonably look for an early stampede of their so long deluded followers.

THE RECORD OF THE VOLUNTEER COMMITTEE.—The array of figures presented in the interesting report of the Volunteer Committee is too formidable to be grasped in a cursory survey. But one or two salient facts may be noticed. The city and county contributed to the national army 116,382 men. Of these, 53,544 were raised without any bounty. The average of the terms of service was nearly two years and a quarter; and the average cost per man for those who received bounties, hand-money, and expenses of equipment, and Family Relief Fund was $463 80. The bounties amounted in all to $9,317,612; the premiums to $552,715. The expenses connected with the payment of bounties appear to be excessive—$724,064—but, perhaps, all this outlay may have been necessary in keeping the Enlistment Bureau in operation. The expenses not connected with bounties reached the gross sum of $6,918,281; making the grand total expenditure no less than $17,512,673. A portion of this has been reimbursed from the National Treasury and by the State; and a claim is held for settlement, which, with the actual repayments, according to the report, will reduce the net outlay by the city and county, to $14,577,214. Whether the expenditure has been characterized by discretion and economy, it would be impossible to gather from the bald tabular statements before us. But this much is apparent, that no community in this or any other country ever taxed itself voluntarily in support of a national war with the same ungrudging liberality.

THE CONFUSION IN THE CROTON AQUEDUCT DEPARTMENT.—Judge LEONARD, yesterday, delivered an opinion at Special Term of the Supreme Court, adverse to Messrs. GILES and JEREMIAH, who claim to be Commissioners of the Croton Board, under appointment of the Mayor and Common Council, and in favor of Messrs. STEPHENS and DARRAGH, the former incumbents. This decision of Judge LEONARD is not final, and the case will probably be taken on appeal to the General Term. It is sincerely to be hoped that a definite settlement of the difficulty will not be long delayed. As the case now stands the affairs of the Croton Department are at a dead lock. Its business includes a vast amount of detail that is inseparable from the comfort and health of the city. While the confusion continues all grading and paving of streets must cease; all guttering and draining be neglected; the sewerage take care of itself, and the network of water pipes be left to the tender mercies of corrosion and rust. Besides all this, the mechanics and laborers employed by the department are put to sad straits for want of their wages, and this last is not the least of the unfortunate state of the case.

OUR STREETS.—To-day Messrs. BROWN, DEVOE & KNAPP, the contractors for cleaning the streets of this city for ten years, at $500,000 per annum, commence operations. These gentlemen have no very heavy accumulations of filth to remove. The streets at the present time are cleaner probably than they have been for a year or more. The very worst portions of the city, with few exceptions, are reported to be comparatively free from dirt to-day. City Inspector BOOLE has doubtless been making an effort to leave the streets in a tolerably cleanly condition to his successors. Last year $800,000 were expended in street cleaning, of which amount Mr. BOOLE claims that $150,000 were disbursed in removing the filth accumulated during the pendency of the Hecker injunction. Wages, horse feed, &c., are, however, now lower than they were then, and are still falling, so that the amount which the contractors are to receive may be considered as ample remuneration for the work to be done.

It is to be hoped that Mr. BOOLE, who still has the general supervision of the work of street cleaning, will keep his promise and compel the contractors to stick to their bargain.

Hon. C. P. Kirkland on the War.

Hon. C. P. KIRKLAND has just published in a pamphlet of twenty pages, an elaborate and able discussion of the treatment to be extended to rebels individually, and also the mode of restoring the rebel States to the Union. It is marked by very full legal knowledge, and by a clear application of legal principles to the several branches of the topics discussed. Mr. KIRKLAND deems it important to carry into full effect the law of treason, in the cases of the leading agents of the rebellion, and that confiscation and disfranchisement should be inflicted as just penalties upon large numbers who acted with them. Concerning the other branch of the subject, Mr. KIRKLAND maintains that the rebel States have never been out of the Union, and that the constitutional rights of the States must be maintained inviolate. He holds that the National Government has no control over the question of negro suffrage, and that this matter may be safely left to the future population of the rebel states.

The pamphlet is very able and deserves general circulation.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Dispatches to the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Friday, June 30.

HOT WEATHER.

The temperature to-day has been as high as ninety-six degrees in the shade. Late this afternoon there was a heavy rain-storm accompanied by thunder and lightning.

THE PRESIDENT'S HEALTH.

The health of President JOHNSON is much better.

THE TRIAL.

The military commission recently engaged in the trial of the conspirators, met this morning, and after a brief consultation, made up their findings and adjourned. The result will not be positively known until officially promulgated.

TRIED FOR AIDING GUERRILLAS.

Among the cases to be tried before the Military Commission of which Col. CHIPMAN is Judge-Advocate, and which is sitting in this city, is that of a resident of Virginia, who a year ago conspired with a guerrilla to cause the death of a loyal citizen, the accused having furnished the guerrilla with a United States uniform as a disguise.

GALE SENT SOUTH.

G. W. GALE, who, in last December, advertised in the Selma (Ala.) Despatch, for one million dollars, to procure the assassination of President LINCOLN, WILLIAM H. SEWARD and ANDREW JOHNSON, was taken from the Old Capitol Prison to-day and sent back to Alabama for trial.

MONEY-ORDER OFFICES.

The money-order offices are, after to-day, to be increased from two hundred and eighty to four hundred and twenty, principally in the Western States. Measures have been taken to extend the system to the Pacific Coast. The result of the experiment so far, has been satisfactory to the Post-office Department, while those who remit small sums of money, are perfectly insured from loss.

COLORED CONVENTION.

A committee of delegates, representing the colored population of Virginia, is to be held at Alexandria, August 2, to take into consideration their present and future condition, and devise means for the good and welfare of the colored people throughout the State.

RETIRES FROM OFFICE.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue LEWIS retires from office to-morrow, to be succeeded by WILLIAM ORTON, of New-York.

Tophet.

Perspiring fellow-sufferer, we mean sweating citizen, was it hot yesterday? We imagine a faint response, the last gasp of exhausted breath, which almost shapes the answer "Yes." Was it hot? Let the thermometer and the soda fountains answer. But of what avail and of what profit is your thermometrical measurement? Does not science tell us—and is not science infallible—that the thermometer on a railway train, going fifty miles an hour, marks exactly the same figure as its fellow sweltering in the station-house? Of course; and you, reader, who gasp across the hot pavement at the foot of Whitehall-street, and think the shade of the ferry-house a great relief, are just as hot when spreading yourself on the bow of the Staten Island ferry-boat and cutting the waves at the rate of twenty miles an hour, as you were while searching for your dime in the crowd at the ticket gate. Of course, you think you are cool, but you are not—or you ought not to be, for the thermometer says exactly the contrary.

But yesterday science and experience coincided. It seemed impossible to get up even a factitious breeze; in whatever direction you paddled your canoe, the breeze, if there was any, seemed to be with you.

> "All in a hot and copper sky
> The bloody sun at noon,"

says COLERIDGE, with a fling of Bowery slang at that much-abused luminary, just as if he meant yesterday instead of the hypothetically poetical time when the chap with the Albatross breastpin went on his melancholy cruise. Bloody, indeed, was the sun, and coppery was the sky—at least, we suppose the state of the sky was the cause of so many worthy people having their coppers hot, and of such frantic efforts to cool the same.

When it is awfully hot, stay at home—railroads are ridiculous impositions, steamboats are steam baths, and as for rural walks, they can only be compared to the promenade-trio of Shadrach, Meshack and Abednego in that celebrated Babylonian furnace.

Look at your steamboat excursion. Of course you are always late and have a run at the last bell; you leap aboard very much of the temper of a red hot ball from Fort Columbus; you plunge into a crowd of fervent temperature and irascible temper; you are stifled with the aroma of the huge unwashed multitude, contaminated by their squalling litters, suffocated with their cabbage-cigar smoke, and dumped at last like a bag of potatoes at some place which seems—as you leave the water—like the open door of the infernal pit. Go ahead, and get two hours' experience of the enjoyment of rural ramble; the long stretch of unshaded and dusty street, lined with little dens where you are charged five-fold price for stuff that would poison a dog; the so-called park, which is a cross between a kitchen garden and a pig-pen; and especially the inevitable half dozen of gallows-birds from the city, who are lying in wait to insult women, pick your pocket or get up a fight, and by this time you will probably conclude that going abroad in a hot day to keep cool is most emphatically carrying coals to Newcastle.

No; when it is absolutely hot stay at home; avoid exercise, shun cars and steamboats, and reckon all highflown brags about shady groves, &c., as so many "springes to catch woodcock." Try a cold bath, a thin pair of what-do-you-call-ems, and a copy of the NEW-YORK TIMES; and when the sun has disappeared you may venture out—for a walk, but do no car-riding.

Yesterday was our brag hot one for this season, and we challenge New-Orleans to beat it. The air was very still, discomposed now and then with a slight breeze, but these bits of variety were fitful and generally weak. Thermometers figured among the nineties, and at one time seemed likely to beat greenbacks in reaching par. From about 3 o'clock until 6, the sun poured in point-blank fire, and made the air almost hiss with the intense heat. As the glowing orb went down, heavy and dark masses of clouds gathered in the west; the snaky tongues of the lightning darted out here and there, and the refreshing breeze that preludes rain, came to our relief; but it was not until a late hour that the grateful shower came, and then it was nothing like the deluge we had hoped to enjoy. The night air was scarcely cooler than that of the afternoon; but one does not feel the heat so sensibly in the dark as when his eyes are bleared with the furnace-like shimmer of noon-tide.

As we write the levin bolts are tearing the clouds into furrows, and loosening the impending deluge which pours down its grateful coolness to alleviate the horrors of the hottest day of the season.

Dramatic.

In the case of House vs. Bernard, anent the drama of "Arrah na Pogue," before the Court of Common Pleas, Judge CARDOZO yesterday issued the following order:

> It appearing satisfactorily to me by the complaint herein, positively sworn to by affidavit by the plaintiff, that sufficient grounds for an order of injunction exist, I do hereby order that the defendant, CHARLES S. BERNARD, refrain from selling, disposing of and circulating the dramatic composition entitled "Arrah na Pogue; or The Wicklow Wedding, a drama in three acts, by DION BOUCICAULT and E. H. HOUSE," or copies thereof, and from offering or advertising the same for sale, until the further order of this court.

Gov. Bramlette of Kentucky on Emancipation.

LOUISVILLE, Thursday, June 29.

Gov. BRAMLETTE addressed the citizens this evening in favor of the Constitutional Amendment and the advantages of free over slave labor in Kentucky. He said slavery has been utterly overthrown, and proved the impossibility of its restoration. He urged the people to proceed to establish a system of free labor, as dictated by wisdom and their interest, showed by statistics of the population and the occupation of land by slave-holders and non-slave-holders, that the rich lands of the State were in the hands of a class exceedingly small in comparison with the popular masses, urged the organization of the free white laborers of the State to take care in future of their own interests. He said the necessity existed for the immediate action of Kentucky in disposing of the vexed question of slavery, the progress of events having practically destroyed the institution itself. Gov. BRAMLETTE discussed at some length the second section of the amendment, and answered, with overwhelming power, the objections urged against it, such as that the amendment gives Congress power to confer the elective franchise upon emancipated slaves, and thus makes social equality. He said the section gives Congress no more power than under the constitution now existing, and this second section meant simply that Congress should, by appropriation or necessary legislation, prohibit slavery and involuntary servitude in the State.

A Correction.

PHILADELPHIA, Friday, June 30.

A typographical error occurred in a dispatch sent from this city, and published in the New-York papers of this morning. The name of the person alluded to should have been stated as WILLIAM B. COZZENS, and not Commodore B. N. COZZENS.

SEWING MACHINES AND BABY-TENDERS.—J. T. ELLIS, long an attache to the WHEELER & WILSON Manufacturing Company—he having, in fact, grown up with the Wheeler & Wilson sewing-machine business—two years since opened an independent establishment at the corner of Broadway and Twenty-second-street, in this city, where he commenced selling Wheeler & Wilson's sewing-machines at retail; he also organized a system for letting out machines, by means of which a part of the rental-money was regularly applied to the payment for the machines, by which means hundreds of poor but enterprising women have become the owners of this invaluable labor and time-saver. In addition, he organized a plan of taking in sewing from families, which has enabled him to give remunerative employment to a very large number of women—the number constantly increasing.

This is the only place up town where Wheeler & Wilson's sewing machines can be obtained, instruction given and kept in repair. Also, the Howe Sewing Machine, peculiarly adapted for heavy tailoring and leather work. To these more detailed applications of the sewing-machine, Mr. ELLIS has recently added the entire management of the celebrated "Baby-Tender" business. Finding it imperfect in many mechanical details, and susceptible of radical and very valuable improvements, he immediately brought to bear the unequaled ingenuity and mechanical skill at the command of the Wheeler & Wilson Manufacturing Company, to improve and perfect every detail of this novel labor-saver and promising candidate for universal introduction and welcome into the baby-blessed homes of the American people.—New-York Evening Post. [Advertisement.]

A Clergyman's Statement.

On Tuesday last a prominent clergyman called at our office, and stated that he was suffering from an affection of the heart, and asked if I thought it would be safe for him to inhale the nitrous oxide gas and have some teeth extracted. I replied that I had given it to many such, without ill effects—that it would only increase the circulation about as much as to walk a block rapidly. He concluded to try it; and while asleep Dr. PADDOCK extracted the stumps of eight teeth. He wrote his name to our certificate, and added, "When I entered the door and read Dr. COLTON'S advertisement, 'Teeth extracted absolutely without pain.' I thought it a very bold statement; I now know it to be entirely true." The next patient but one, wrote opposite his name, "I would travel 200 miles to have Dr. COLTON extract my tooth, in preference to any other. The remedy is quite simple—without pain." (Dr. PADDOCK extracts—I administer the gas.) The same day a lady for whom we extracted four teeth, wrote, "Playing Piano." A physician, on the following day, had five teeth extracted, and wrote opposite his name, "The gas is a triumph in surgery, and Dr. PADDOCK is a triumphant operator."

We have usually a less crowd of patients between 9 and 10 A. M., and 1 and 2 P. M. Price $2 for first tooth, and $1 for each subsequent. G. Q. COLTON.

HEARING RESTORED

BY ONE APPLICATION OF

DR. VON EISENBERG'S

ÆSTHETICO-NEURALGICON,

THE CELEBRATED APPARATUS FOR THE CURE OF ALL DISEASES.

READ! READ!

NEW-YORK, May 4, 1865.

I have been induced, by the great number of certificates continually published in favor of Dr. Von Eisenberg's skill, to apply to him for advice concerning my deafness of many years' standing. I placed myself under his care, and to my utmost delight he made me hear perfectly well by a single painless application of Dr. Von Eisenberg's "Æsthetico-Neuralgicon." I have great pleasure in being able to state that his skill in restoring hearing surpasses anything I ever saw or heard of. His attention to the patient is highly commendable.

SIGHT RESTORED.

READ.

NEW-YORK, May 5, 1865.

About six years ago I became troubled with inflamed eyes, and during the past six years, (a great portion of which time I was almost totally blind, unable, consequently, to walk without assistance,) I have tried many of the best oculists during the time, and found myself getting worse instead of better, until I was permitted, through kind Providence, to see you. You have cured me, and I consider it my duty to the public to make my case known, as I have no doubt there are thousands suffering in the same way that I was, and I thank God that I can raise my voice in praise of your great skill to restore one to sight who never thought to see again, and suffered as much as I have for the last six years. My eyes are more brilliant than ever. I shall always be happy to state my case to any who may call on me.

MRS. MARGARET LORETTE,
No. 22 4th-av.

EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF BLINDNESS.

Dr. VON EISENBERG—Dear Sir: My son Walter was completely blind of one eye, and the other nearly so, for TWO YEARS. I have tried a great many of the best physicians, and the eyes became worse instead of better. was recommended by a friend to call on you, and, thank Providence, my child is now fully restored to sight. His eyes look more brilliant than ever, and his health, which has been in a very poor state, is now entirely restored. I thank you for your kind attention to my child, and I shall ever be happy to be a living testimony to your skill, to any one who may call at my residence.

HEARING RESTORED BY AN APPLICATION OF DR. VON. EISENBERG'S ÆSTHETICO-NEURALGICON.

I was completely deaf for several years, and hearing of Dr. Von Eisenberg's great reputation in restoring the hearing, I called on him, and in one operation, to my great astonishment and excessive pleasure, I now hear perfectly well. I came into the Doctor perfectly deaf, and hear as I never expected to do. This skill is unrivaled.

MIRACULOUS CURE OF THE CHRONIC CATARRH, ASSUMING THE FORM OF CONSUMPTION.

I have been suffering for a long time from a severe Catarrh, with a continual dullness in my head, a tightness across my chest, and a weight over my eyes, which were weak, watery, and very painful. My nostrils were continually obstructed with a pouring of fluid. I had frequent sneezing, hoarseness of my voice, generally attended with spitting of blood. I have been treated by many eminent physicians without success. Recently the Catarrh became so offensive that I could not go into society. Hearing of DR. VON EISENBERG'S new invention, I thought I would apply to him as a last resource. Having been satisfied with his diagnosis, I submitted to his treatment, and have every reason to be abundantly satisfied, as I am completely cured, and my health so much renovated that I feel better than I felt for the last fifteen years. It is a blessing that experience gives the Doctor the power to restore such a shattered constitution to perfect vigor. I now feel very happy to be able to give this testimonial in favor of Dr. Von Eisenberg's inimitable skill.

SEVEN GREAT BLESSINGS
SECURED TO THE HUMAN RACE
BY ONE BOTTLE OF RADWAY'S
READY RELIEF.

1. If suddenly seized with pain or sickness, the use of RADWAY'S READY RELIEF will afford IMMEDIATE EASE and exterminate the threatened disease.

2. If suffering from any accute, inflammatory, neuralgic, rheumatic, miasmatic or other disease, whether rheumatism or neuralgia, cholera-morbus, diarrhœa, billious colic, fever and ague, weakness in the limbs, back, legs, strains, bruises, burns, or any pain or infirmity, RADWAY'S READY RELIEF will quickly cure the patient, without occasioning loss of time, change of diet, or the use of other medicines.

3. If subject to headache, sour taste in the mouth, dizziness, sickness at stomach, melancholy, fits, toothache, loss of appetite, general debility, coldness of the extremities, swollen joints, nervousness, restlessness, difficult breathing, asthma, sore throat, coughs, colds, influenza, diphtheria, croup, inflammation of the bowels, stomach, kidneys or bladder, Radway's Ready Relief will afford immediate ease, and quickly cure the complaint.

4. RUBBING THE SPINE.—If afflicted with spinal difficulties, or with diabetes, incontinence of urine, irritation of the bladder, paralysis of the spincter or the bladder, sluggishness of the kidneys, leuchorrhœa, whites, fleur albus, falling of the womb, and other uterine difficulties, Radway's Ready Relief, rubbed the entire length of the spine for ten or twenty minutes, twice a day, will cure the worst cases. We have over 1,000 well authenticated cases, where Radway's Ready Relief, by this method of application, has effected permanent and speedy cures.

5. All who, by exposure to hard service, either military, naval, or otherwise, or by the use of mercury have contracted painful diseases, and those suffering from rheumatism in any form, pains in the joints or limbs, palsy or paralysis, weakness, coolness in the extremities, and all pains and aches, lameness and other infirmities, will be quickly cured by the use of Radway's Ready Relief.

6. If the community is threatened with any infectious disease—either small-pox, yellow fever, typhus or typhoid fevers, Radway's Ready Relief is the best disenfectant in the world and a sure preventive to those who use it against attacks of these maladies. In cases of inflammation of the bowels, billious colic, painters' colic, or any active inflammatory disease, the Ready Relief will immediately afford ease and comfort. It possesses marked advantages over all preparations of opium, morphine, veratrine and other opiates and narcotics. It lull pains by imparting strength and vigor to the system and arousing the vital energies to a healthful action, instead of paralysing the perceptive faculties and making them insensible to pain. Let those who would live and enjoy health use RADWAY'S READY RELIEF.

7. To all who are sick and in pain, use the RELIEF. It can do no harm, and will surely do good. Persons who are weak, nervous and debilitated, a teaspoonful of the Ready Relief in a wine glass of water will do you more good than all the bitters in the world—keep your stomach clean and healthy, your breath sweet, your nerves strong, your spirits happy, your appetite good, and your digestion regular. A dose taken at bedtime will insure calm and pleasant sleep.

This remedy is truly a Family Medicine. It can be used with the positive assurance of doing good in all cases where pain or uneasiness exist.

It is the cheapest medicine in the world. One fifty-cent bottle contains more medicine, as well as being a superior medicine, than one dollar's worth of the ordinary pain-killers, liniments, &c., of the day.

One fifty-cent bottle of RADWAY'S READY RELIEF will do more good, and can be used for more purposes, than ten dollars expended for any other medicine in use.

FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND OTHERS SAY THE SAME.
MRS. WESTCOTT,
AN EXPERIENCED NURSE OF WESTCHESTER—READ WHAT SHE SAYS:

"Your Ready Relief and Regulating Pills do our family more good than all the physic and doctors we have had for years. If I have the headache I take Radway's Ready Relief and one of the Pills—in an hour I am all right; if pain in my bowels, Radway's Ready Relief gives me ease and comfort; if rheumatism, I use the Relief; if sore throat or hoarseness, I use the Relief; if neuralgic pains shoot about my body, I stop them with the Relief; if I catch cold, I take the Relief; if toothache, or earache, or faceache, I apply the Relief—in a few moments the most severe pains are lulled. If my children fall and bruise or otherwise hurt themselves, the Relief removes all pain and discoloration of the skin; if they burn or scald themselves, the Relief takes out the fire and relieves them from anguish. I could not sleep without a bottle of Radway's Ready Relief within my reach; so with the Pills, the very moment my stomach or bowels are out of order, one of Radway's Pills is all that I require to restore my system to order and regularity."

"This is a delightful work, by a lady whose dramatic powers of incident and vigor of romantic conception are hardly equaled by any authoress of the present day; and it is very rarely we light upon a work of fiction so likely to fascinate and fix the reader's attention as this last book of Mrs. Wood's, 'Mildred Arkell.' BARRE DUPARCQ'S

ELEMENTS OF MILITARY ART AND HISTORY. By EDWARD DE LA BARRE DUPARCQ, Chef de Bataillon of Engineers in the Army of France, and Professor of the military art in the Imperial School of St. Cyr. Translated by Brig.-Gen. GEO. W. CULLUM, U. S. A., of the staff of Major-Gen. H. W. Halleck.
1 vol. 8vo. Cloth, $5.

"BARRE DUPARCQ is one of the most favorably known among recent military writers in France. If not the very best, this is certainly among the best of the numerous volumes devoted to this topic. Could this book be put into the hands and heads of our numerous intelligent, but untrained officers, it would work a transformation supremely needed. We can say, that no officer can read this work without positive advantage, and real progress as a soldier. Gen. CULLUM is well known as one of the most proficient students of military science and art in our service, and is amply qualified to prepare an original text-book on this subject."—Atlantic Monthly.

TO THE NERVOUS.

NEW-YORK, July 1, 1865.

Several months since Dr. D. C. MOREHEAD, of this city, made a chemical discovery which he was led to believe would form the basis for a valuable remedial preparation in diseases of the Nervous System. Medicine has so little beneficial influence in these prevalent disorders, that there was more than ordinary inducement to continue experiments with the hope of perfecting and testing the value of the discovery. An article of very novel and agreeable character was finally perfected, and then the more important matter was instituted, of testing its real value. A supply of the new article, which was designated as a "NEURALGIC ANTIDOTE," was sent to some of our most eminent citizens, requesting them to have it tried in their own families, or among their friends, who were suffering from nervous complaints. This private test has been highly gratifying and encouraging to the Discoverer, and a demand has been created for the antidote which he is unable to supply. He has also received numerous letters, many from ladies, advising and requesting him to place the article on sale and to make its virtues known to the public. Dr. MOREHEAD'S engagements have not yet permitted him to comply with these suggestions, but he is now able to inform those who may be interested in the new remedy, that he has nearly completed arrangements for that purpose. Due notice will be given of its public introduction. Meanwhile, the nervous will please "possess their nerves in patience."

THE DIAPHRAGM FILTER, AS AN invention, is regarded by the leading plumbers of this city, and generally by professional and scientific gentlemen, as the most simple, durable and efficient apparatus for the purification of water under pressure. It has been awarded two gold and three silver medals by the American and Maryland Institutes, and by the Massachusetts Mechanics' Charitable Association, and approved of by our most eminent chemist, (with additional improvements.)

The Diaphragm Filter, manufactured by ALEXANDER McKENZIE, No. 305 4th-st., is the kind of Porous Filter to which I alluded in my recent report to the Croton Board. I consider the artificial sandstone, which constitutes the filtering medium, to be an excellent article for the purpose. The instrument is quite durable, and requires to be reversed occasionally to insure its action.

WALLACK'S.

BRILLIANT SUCCESS
OF THE
WALLACK-DAVENPORT COMBINATION,
IN THE
CELEBRATED AND HIGHLY POPULAR
MORAL DRAMA
from Chas. Dickens' beautiful home story of OLIVER TWIST.
Mr. J. W. WALLACK'S marvelously great performance of the JEW FAGIN, and
Mr. E. L. DAVENPORT'S thrillingly natural representation of BILL SYKES, Pronounced the
PERFECTION OF ARTISTIC EXCELLENCE.
Why the Drama of OLIVER TWIST is a GREAT MORAL PLAY:

Mr. Charles Dickens in his preface to the second edition of his famous novel of "Oliver Twist," says:

"I have yet to learn that a lesson of the purest good may not be drawn from the vilest evil. I have always believed this to be a recognized and established truth, laid down by the greatest men the world has ever seen, constantly acted upon by the best and wisest natures, and confirmed by the reason and experience of every thinking mind. I saw no reason when I wrote this book, why the very dregs of life, so long as their speech did not offend the ear, should not serve the purpose, as well as its froth and cream. Nor did I doubt that there lay festering in St. Giles' as good material toward the TRUTH, as any flaunting in St. James'. * * What manner of life is that which is described in these pages as the every-day existence of a thief? What charms has it for the young and ill-disposed? * * * The cold, wet, shelterless midnight streets of London. * * * The haunts of hunger and disease—the shabby rags that scarcely hold together—where are the attractions of these things? Have they no lesson, and do they not whisper something beyond the little regarded warning of a moral precept?"

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

THE POLICE COURTS.

Jefferson Market—Before Justice Dodge.

STREET-WALKERS ARRESTED ON THURSDAY NIGHT.

On Thursday night patrolmen John Crown, Lewis P. Waterman, Everett B. Delanoy, James Clinton, John Quinn, and Ebenezer Lidgate, of the Eighth, Fifteenth, and Twenty-ninth Precincts, apprehended nine street-walkers, who, on appearing before Justice Dodge, yesterday morning, described themselves thus: "Minnie McGuire, of the town, 19 years of age, a native of Boston; Kate Pollock, dressmaker, 23 years of age, a native of Vermont; Ann Welch, servant, a native of Ireland, 23 years of age; Flora Reed, 20 years of age, waiter in a concert saloon, a native of Ireland; Eva Elliott, actress, 24 years of age, a native of London; Kate Sherwood, of the town, aged 22 years, a native of New-York; Catharine Elder, of the town, 32 years of age, a native of Piedmont; Augusta Wendover, 40 years of age, a native of Ireland; and Ann Kelly, a native of Ireland, aged 25 years." Several of the prisoners candidly admitted that they followed no useful occupation, and one said that she dwelt with her sister, in Sixth-avenue, and that her family were aware of her conduct in walking the public streets at night. These arrests are the result of several raids which were undertaken by the police on Thursday night. The raids were abortive, because of the many like efforts which the police have recently made, particularly in the down-town-districts, and partially, perhaps, because the men who were sent out to capture street-walkers were those whose monthly day off came round yesterday. Men who were entitled to sleep from 6 P. M. until midnight on Thursday night, and who at that hour were required to go to post duty until 6 yesterday morning, then to go to court with their prisoners if any, or to their beds or elsewhere if they had no prisoners, were sent out in civilian attire to make prisoners of persons who, not recognizing them would not report them for neglect of duty. The only wonder is that they took a solitary offender. If the police authorities really wish to cleanse the city and fill Blackwell's Island, they have only to make a raid with officers in uniform in Broadway between East Houston and Broome street between 1 and 2 o'clock in the morning.

THE STOVER-PORTER CRIMINAL LAWSUIT.

Mr. Gunning S. Bedford, Jr., sent a note to Justice Dodge, yesterday afternoon, stating that Mr. John Graham, counsel for Daniel M. Porter, had suddenly been called to attend a funeral. The hearing in the case against Porter, for an alleged fraud upon his client, Henry D. Stover, was thereupon postponed until Thursday, the 6th inst., at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

THE PETROLEUM BUBBLE.

Daniel Stratton, Jr., partner of Wm. D. Mann in the United Service Petroleum and Mining Company's enterprise, having heard of the collapse of the balloon and arrest of Mann, at once started for New-York, and arrived yesterday. He immediately presented himself before Justice Dodge and gave bail for his future appearance.

MISAPPROPRIATION OF UNDERCLOTHING.

Mr. Richard Cox, of No. 150 Broadway, dealer in gentlemen's furnishing goods, preferred a charge of larceny against Thomas Clark, a young English valet in the service of Mr. Myers, of No. 66 East Twelfth-street. It appears that on the 28th of May Mr. Cox sent a messenger with nine shirts, of the value of $31, which had been ordered by Mr. H. W. Whiting, to be delivered at No. 66 West Twelfth-street, and that the shirts were delivered, by mistake, to Clark, at No. 66 East Twelfth-street. Policeman Ralph P. Baker, who took Clark into custody at the Hotel de Cuba, found four shirts in his possession. In default of $500 bail, the prisoner was committed for examination.

POCKET-PICKING ON THE EIGHTH-AVENUE RAILROAD.

Mrs. Sophrona Ackerson, of No. 30 Eighth-avenue, appeared against William F. Johnston, a young Englishman who pretends to be a hardware clerk, and alleged that while she was traveling in an Eighth-avenue car, on Thursday evening, he stole her gold spectacles from her dress pocket. The accused was arrested by Patrolman George C. Robertson, and committed without bail. On the prisoner's person Capt. Hedden, of the Sixteenth Ward, found a diamond pin which is believed to have been stolen. It may be seen at the Sixteenth Precinct police station.]

ATTEMPT TO ROB A BOARDING-HOUSE.

On Thursday evening Stephen Johnston, ship-caulker, and John Jones, bar-tender, one of whom is a graduate of Sing Sing Prison, entered the room in Mrs. Catharine Cook's dwelling, at No. 285 Seventh-avenue, occupied by Conrad Bowne and Wm. Hess, and packed up $200 worth of wearing apparel, with which they were preparing to depart when they were discovered. They were captured by Patrolmen Henry C. Sloat and Thaddeus Dwyer, and committed by Justice Dodge in default of $2,500 bail each. Johnston, who is otherwise known as James Lynch, says that, having spent the last Fourth of July in prison, he had hoped to be a free man on the coming Fourth.

The Tombs—Before Justice Hogan.

THEFT AT THE REVERE HOUSE.

Mr. James Arnold, of No. 541 Broadway, made oath that on the night of the 5th inst., at the Revere House, on the southeast corner of Broadway and East Houston-street, one Charles Bird, of Prince-street, bar-tender, entered his room and stole from his waistcoat pockets $150 in money and a gold watch, which he values at $150. Bird was apprehended yesterday by Policeman Kenny, of the Fou teenth Ward, and committed to prison in default of $1,000 bail.

TAXIDERMY AT THE TOMBS.

Complaint was entered against Mrs. Emma Bowers, of Brooklyn, confectioner, accusing her of stealing a case of stuffed birds from Mr. Henry Bischoff, of No. 52 Bond-street. The property, which Mrs. Bowers did not attempt to secrete, was found in her possession. It appears that Mr. Bowers had mortgaged the case to Mr. Bischoff, it being his wife's, and that that lady, not knowing that her husband had made any disposition of the birds, had taken them. Mrs. Bowers gave bail to appear for examination at the Court of Special Sessions.

Essex Market—Before Justice Shandley.

ROBBED AND CLUBBED.

Henry Fonan, a discharged soldier, of No. 69 Forsyth-street, entered a Water-street basement den on Thursday evening, and was there robbed of $35. He alleges that Bernard Rossiter robbed him and subsequently struck him on the head with a club, inflicting a serious wound. Patrolman Parsons, of the Seventh Ward, took Rossiter into custody yesterday but did not recover Fonan's money. The prisoner was committed for examination.

ROBBED IN CANAL-STREET.

Xavier Wetzel, of No. 251 Sixth-street, fell asleep in Canal-street, near Chrystie, on Thursday evening, and was awoke by two fellows searching his pockets. He seized one of the thieves and turned him over to Patrolman Murphy, of the Tenth Ward. The prisoner, who rendered his name as Mortimer Shay, was committed for examination. Shay's confederate escaped with $28 of the soldier's money and a silver watch.

Prof. W. P. Blake's Lecture Before the Travelers' Club.

Last evening, the distinguished savan, Prof. W. P. Blake, of California, read a very interesting paper before the Travelers' Club of this city, at their splendid suite of Club-rooms, No. 1 West Fourteenth-street. The subject of the Professor's lecture was a description of his explorations in Russian America, and some account of his views and opinions relating to the vast section of territory known as Russian America.

Notwithstanding the sudden storm of wind and rain, the lecture was attended by a numerous and distinguished assemblage of ladies and gentlemen, who take an interest in the resources and geological wealth of this great continent. The hour of meeting was, however, somewhat delayed by the storm.

The president, in introducing the lecturer, took occasion to remark that the club, although a young organization, he hoped and was satisfied that soon the gatherings of the members and their friends would fill the rooms. In speaking of Prof. Blake, he said that the gentleman was well known as a distinguished geologist, and trusted the fatigue consequent upon necessary preparations for his departure for California, which takes place to-day, (Saturday,) would not cause the lecturer to feel the labors of the evening.

In speaking of Russian-America, Mr. Blake referred to the ignorance prevailing in regard to the geographical position of that great tract of territory. He gave great honor to Peter the Great, for his efforts to determine the distance from the then eastern boundary of the Russian Empire, resulting, as they did, in discovering immense sections of country; and also described the Russian settlements, their manner of living, trading, and general progress, stating that these settlements were in fair condition, their trade consisting principally of furs and lumber, but their progress in improvement and development was very slow, and it was a subject of much complaint that such was the fact. He took occasion in speaking of his first visit to Russian America, to give several beautiful and interesting descriptions of the scenery and climate, detailing in a happy manner the scenes and incidents of daily occurrence, and spoke of the Governor's palace, with its formidable and pretentious pile of buildings, with its old guns and other kinds of armament. In speaking of the natives, the lecturer detailed several striking and surprising peculiarities, among which was the habit of painting their faces a deep black, wearing a superfluity of ear and nose rings, and also an ugly ornament thrust through the lower lip. Of the Russian Fur Company, the lecturer said that it was subject to the Home Government, who have officers of the army residing in the settlement to preserve order and manage governmental departments. Sitka is the centre and the capital of the settlement. The population consists of 847 officers and government employes, 10,000 inhabitants (white and black) and 4,700 converted Indians. In the Winter the climate is disagreeable, being moist and very trying; the days are short. In Summer the heat is great and the supply of ice scanty, the company being obliged to send great distances for it, especially since the growth of California. In the immense tables of statistics given by the lecturer, the audience gained a very good idea of the scope and wealth of the company, and the territory which they so successfully "farm." The lecture was of deep interest, and was listened to by the audience with attention.

The Arion Society.

The members of this healthy and hearty society gave their annual "Pic-nic and Summer Night's Festival" at Lion Park, on Thursday last. Lion Park is located on One Hundred and Tenth-street, between Eighth and Tenth avenues. It is approached most readily from the first-named thoroughfare, where the cars are always to be found. Mr. Paul Falk has recently become the lessee of the park and its surroundings. He has constructed an open-air concert hall of huge dimensions and elegant design. There is nothing like it in America. Here, then, twice a week, concerts are given under the direction of Mr. Theodore Thomas, and here, too, all the first-class German festivals take place. It would be difficult to imagine a more delicious spot. Occupying very high ground it possesses the great advantage of being always cool. At night-time, when it is lighted up with innumerable gas-lamps, the spectacle is almost fairy-like. This was especially the case on Thursday last, when, in addition to Mr. Falk's preparations, the members of the Arion Society exerted themselves to make their festival and the place in which it occurred beautiful. The hall and grounds were decorated with variegated lamps, arbors, evergreens, &c. The exercises commenced early in the afternoon, and terminated late the next morning. They included a grand vocal and instrumental concert, under the direction of Mr. Theodore Thomas; a series of comic processions—satirizing the political and social events of the day; a fine display of fireworks, and lastly, but not leastly, a grand ball. The best of temper prevailed. Nothing indeed could have been more orderly or enjoyable. The fun was kept up, as we have before remarked, unflinchingly until decent business hours on Friday; the Eighth-avenue cars running all night for the accommodation of the visitors.

Inquests by Coroner Collin.

POISONED BY A FLY-BITE.

On the 22d ultimo Charles Schweiger, a boarder at John Rohn's saloon, at No. 95 East Fourth-street, was stung under the right eye by a large fly, which flew from the carcass of a bullock in his slaughter-house, in First-avenue. The wound being intensely painful, Schweiger went home, and, his face swelling, arnica was applied, but without affording relief. The sufferer lay in torture until Thursday night, and then died, as a jury say, of "poisoning from the bite of a fly." The deceased, who was a native of Germany, was 40 years of age.

UNKNOWN WOMAN POISONED.

An unknown woman, of about 23 years, having been found, on Thursday evening, by Patrolman Christie, of the Eighth Ward, suffering from hysteria, at the threshold of No. 60 Wooster-street, was taken to Bellevue Hospital, and there she died. It is supposed that she lived with Mrs. Johnston, in Amity-street. A post-mortem examination, by Dr. Thomas Robinson, revealed poison in the stomach. Deceased, who was about five feet six inches in stature, wore a black and white plaid skirt, red and green plaid shawl, black bonnet, and leather gaiters.

A Morgue to be Established.

At a special meeting of the Board of Supervisors yesterday. Mr. Purdy offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That it be referred to the Committee on County Offices to confer with the Coroners of the county, to inquire into and report upon the expediency of providing a suitable place for the reception of unknown dead bodies, in order that friends or relatives may have an opportunity of identifying said dead bodies and claiming them for interment; and that Coroners cause public notice to be published in two of the daily newspapers for that purpose.

The resolution was adopted, and the board adjourned.

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

Metropolitan Police Matters.—Capt. Frank C. Speight, a veteran policeman of twenty years' standing, having received leave of absence, will sail this morning for Europe, to be absent about two months. Capt. Speight bears a graceful letter of introduction from Superintendent Kennedy to Inspector Tanner, of London ...Commissioner McMurray will strive to pay the members of the force their salary for the expired month of June on the 3d of July, if possible, so that the men can have the money for use on the 4th. To do this, twenty-nine days are to be counted, instead of thirty, as it is necessary to obtain certificates that the men have performed the labor for which they are to be paid. In the first week of August, the extra day is to be allowed. Since the 1st of April, the department has experienced much difficulty in getting money with which to pay the men. Until recently, the Comptroller has obtained the funds for several months previous to October on scrip to be paid from taxes collected in October and November. This year capitalists have been unwilling to advance money on this scrip, as they can get a higher rate of interest on government securities. By direction of the Secretary of State, Treasurer McMurray deposited the funds of the department in the Shoe and Leather Bank, and on the 1st of April Mr. McMurray applied to that institution for a loan of $175,000 on the Comptroller's scrip, for the salary of the force. The bank refused to make the advance, and the department applied to several moneyed institutions without success. Mr. Moses Taylor, President of the City Bank, was then applied to, and he advanced the sum required.

Charitable Concert.—We call the attention of concert-goers to the complimentary concert to be given this evening, for the benefit of a deserving soldier, Mr. J. W. Gougler, who was wounded at the battle of Honey Hill, Ga. Mrs. Mozart, Messrs S. B. Mills, Geo. W. Morgan, and Jules G. Lombard are among the artists who have volunteered their services for the occasion. The character of the performers and the object of the concert should insure a good house, even in this sweltering weather. Mr. Gougler has just published a new song, entitled the "Deserted Rebel Mansion," the merits of which are in keeping with the rest of his productions. He will open the concert himself.

Parole of Mr. Osbon.—By order of Gen. Dix, Mr. Osbon, the naval reporter, who was imprisoned on a charge of giving information to the enemy, was yesterday morning paroled until the verdict of the court-martial is promulgated in general orders from Washington. It is understood that the verdict acquits Mr. Osbon of all the charges brought against him by the government, and that Gen. Dix has approved the finding of the court. Mr. Osbon has been deprived of his liberty since the 2d of July last. His health has suffered considerably during his incarceration.

Drowned.—At about 4 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, an unknown soldier fell overboard from the Grand-street Ferry Pier, and was drowned. The body has not been recovered....At about the same hour an unknown girl of about ten years fell through a hole in the Delancey-street Pier and was drowned. The body has not been recovered.

Seizure of Powder.—Fire-Warden James Wright yesterday seized five kegs of powder, on the premises of Mr. J. C. Brower, corner of Myrtle-avenue and Cumberland-street, and put them in a place of safety. They had been stored in a shed not more than fifteen or twenty feet from the store, and being considered dangerous, they were removed. The quantity of powder kept on hand was in excess of the amount allowed by law.

Board of Fire Commissioners—Removal of Bellringers.—A meeting of the Board of Fire Commissioners (E. D.) took place last evening at Firemen's Hall. The principal business transacted was the removal of two bellringers, Thomas Kirkman and Thomas Ames, both cripples, and the selection of two stalwart young men to fill their places. Kirkman, about eighteen months since, was fearfully burned while in the discharge of his duty at the old Bell Tower, which caught fire while he was arranging his lights. His injuries, although severe, have not prevented him from the performance of his duties faithfully since his recovery. The minority of the board express an intention of resigning, in consequence of what they characterize the heartless action of the majority in this matter. The facts in connection with this affair are stated as follows: A short time since there was an election for Clerk of the Board, (salary $500,) and the then incumbent found a majority of one against his reelection. (The board consists of five members.) A bargain, it is asserted, was then entered into with one of the majority, who agreed to vote for the reelection of the old clerk, (a man named Donevan,) provided the bell-ringers were removed and friends of his put in their places. The bargain was consummated, it is alleged, last night.

Programme for the Fourth of July.—The preparations for the celebration of the Fourth have nearly been completed in this Diserict, and the exercises will be of a magnificence and character never heretofore attempted by the staid citizens of the Burgh. At daylight a salute of thirty-six guns will be fired, followed by the ringing of bells. At 10:30 A. M., a meeting of citizens will take place in the chapel of the Ross-street Church. The following gentlemen will deliver addresses: Rev. E. S. Porier, D. D., Richard H. Huntley, Esq., Rev. E. W. Bliss, Rev. C. S. Pomeroy, Rev. A. H. Partridge, Rev. Charles H. Payne, Rev. J. T. Wilson. At 4:30 P. M., exercises under the direction of the Citizens' Committee, of which Hon. Wm. Wall is chairman, will take place at the First Presbyterian Church, corner of South Fourth and Sixth streets. D. L. Northrup, Esq., will read the Declaration of Independence, and Rev. E. S. Canfield will deliver the oration. The Churches of St. Vincent de Paul and St. Mary will celebrate the day by a pic-nic. In the evening every householder is invited to illuminate. The Germans of the Sixteenth Ward, it is understood, will have a grand procession and public meeting in Dutchtown, in which some thirty societies will take part.

Found Drowned.—Coroner Barrett has concluded the inquest upon the body of the unknown man who was found drowned in Newtown Creek, on Thursday night, by Sergt. Sloate, of the Forty-sixth Precinct. No information as to his identity was elicited. The jury rendered a verdict of "Found drowned," having no evidence as to whether he committed suicide or not; although it is probable that he did, as the water was not deep enough for an accidental drowning, and there were no indications whatever of foul play.

Rescued from Drowning.—About 6. A. M. yesterday, a gentleman while attempting to jump on board a South Seventh-street ferry-boat, fell into the dock, and was rescued by the gallantry of a young man named Philip C. Bleil, of Fulton Market, New-York, who was on the boat at the time and who plunged into the water and brought ashore the unfortunate gentleman. This is the third time Bliel alias "Whitey" has rescued his fellow-man from drowning.

An Old Lady Shot.—An old lady named Turner, residing in Morton-street, E. D., while sitting on the back stoop of her residence, about 4 P. M. yesterday, was shot in the leg by a bullet from a pistol in the hands of some person in Myrtle-avenue. It is not known whether the shooting was accidental or malicious.

Incendiary Fire.—The paint shop and stable, corner of Division-avenue and Eighth-street, E. D., owned by G. L. Rogers, and occupied by A. Gunbert, was yesterday damaged by fire to the amount of $500; no insurance. It is believed to be the work of an incendiary.

NEW-JERSEY.

Runaway Accident.—Yesterday noon, as Dr. Ogle, a veterinary surgeon of New-York, was riding up Montgomery-street, Jersey City, his horses took fright and dashed off at a furious rate. Just above Washington-street the light wagon came in contact with a dray, was partially demolished and Dr. Ogle was pitched out head first upon the pavement, and sustained a scalp wound. He was conveyed to a drug-store and the wound dressed. His injuries were not very serious.

Fire at East Newark.—The poudrette works of Mr. Day, at East Newark, were totally destroyed by fire on Thursday afternoon, involving a loss of about $20,000. The fire took from the sparks of an engine used for driving spiles near by.

The Fourth in Hudson City.—The Fourth will be celebrated in Hudson City by a dinner given to the returned soldiers in the grove near Waverley, an oration by Hon. G. B. Adrian, and a display of fireworks in the evening.

Closing of the Public Schools.—The public schools of Jersey City were closed yesterday until the day after the Fourth.

The Croton Aqueduct Board—Judgment for the Old Commissioners.

SUPREME COURT—SPECIAL TERM—JUNE 30.

Before Justice Leonard.

The People ex rel. Stephens vs. John S. Giles.

The People ex rel. Darragh vs. Geo. A. Jeremiah.—In these two cases Justice Leonard has rendered a decision in favor of the relators, supporting the constitutionality of the act which extended the terms of the former occupants, and ousting the nominees of the city. The following is the opinion in the case:

Leonard, J.—These actions are prosecuted to determine the title of the respective claimants to certain offices in the Croton Aqueduct Department. The relator Stephens held the office of President Commissioner, and his official term expired on the 12th of April, 1865, unless it was lawfully extended by an act of the Legislature passed April 3, 1863, which declared that the then chief officers of the Croton Aqueduct Board should continue to hold their offices for four years from the date of the appointment of the then Assistant Commissioners, (Sess. L., 1863, chapter 68.) Mr. Giles has been duly appointed to the same office, if any vacancy existed on or after April 12, 1865. The relator Darragh was appointed Assistant Commissioner Dec. 3, 1862, and his term of office had not expired in May, 1865, when the Board of Aldermen passed a resolution removing him from office, claiming to exercise the power of removal under the Charter of the City of New-York, and the defendant, Jeremiah, was then appointed to fill the vacancy so created. Mr. Darragh was lawfully removed, and Mr. Jeremiah appointed in his place, unless the power of removal was taken from the Aldermen by the same act of the Legislature before referred to. The provision of that act relating to this removal, declares that the heads of Departments in the City of New-York, shall thereafter be removed only for the causes, and in the manner provided by law for the removal of the Controller of said city.

The questions in dispute involve the constitutional validity of the provisions of the act of the legislature before mentioned.

Mr. Giles has been duly appointed and qualified as President Commissioner, and Mr. Jeremiah as Assistant Commissioner, if the term of Mr. Stephens, in the one case, had expired; and in the other, if a vacancy existed upon the removal of Mr. Darragh by the Aldermen.

It is insisted on behalf of Mr. Giles in particular that the enactment of 1863, is a direct invasion of the second section of the 10th article of the constitution of this State. That section, after providing for the election or appointment of county, city, town, and village officers, by local electors or authorities, where no provision is made by the constitution for an election or appointment to those offices, declare "that all other officers whose election or appointment is not provided for by the constitution, and all officers whose offices may be hereafter created by law, shall be elected by the people, or appointed as the Legislature may direct." It was not denied at the argument that these officers were created by law in 1849. Since the adoption of the constitution in 1846; and from an inspection of the laws the fact appears to be so. Within the decision of the Court of Appeals in the case of The People vs. Draper, 15 N. Y. R., 532, the Legislature may provide for the election or appointment in any manner it deems suitable, of all officers, local or general, whose offices were thereafter created by law. I think that decision would not be deemed good authority to uphold an appointment to office by the Legislature, although its language appears to be broad enough to embrace such an act. Such a case was not then before that court and the validity of a legislative appointment was not considered. The validity of the law extending the term of office of Mr. Stephens is claimed to be upheld by section three of the tenth article of the constitution, whether the office is local or not, and independently of the time of its creation whether before or after the constitution of 1846. That section authorizes the Legislature to declare by the law the duration of any office not provided by the Constitution. This provision speaks only of declaring the duration of an office; not the duration of the term of an officer already elected or appointed to an office, the duration of which has been declared by a previous law. The act of 1863 declares two things, viz.: the duration of an office, and, also, the duration of the term of an incumbent. The first is clearly within the constitutional authority of the Legislature, while the other, were it not for another decision of the Court of Appeals, would appear to be as clearly without sanction.

The case of The People vs. Bachellor, 22 N. Y. R., 137, is controlling authority on the subject, and as a member of a subordinate tribunal, I must follow it as authority. The act of the Legislature extending Bachellor's term of office was apparently the precedent for the law under consideration.

It was also urged by the learned counsel for Mr. Giles that the Croton Aqueduct is the property of the Corporation of the City of New-York, and that so far as relates to this property, the city is strictly a private corporation.

Without referring to the startling doctrine (from which I must decidedly dissent) promulgated in the opinions of the Court of Appeals in the late cases of The People vs. Kerr Brothers, 27 N. Y. R. 118, and Darlington vs. The Mayor, &c., not yet reported. The People vs. Booth and others, decided at the present term, in relation to the power of the Legislature over the city property, which are pointedly adverse to the position of the counsel, his argument cannot be sustained. The chief officers of the Croton Aqueduct Department are appointed to public offices created by the Legislature, which may in like manner abolish them.

Other public duties also devolve upon these officers, connected with regulating, constructing and repairing the streets and sewers of the City of New-York. They are no less public officers than other heads of departments—the Comptroller, for example, who is the financial officer of the city, and has in a great measure the management of the income of the piers, wharves and other property of a like character which has heretofore been considered as property belonging to the city. They are not less public officers, as I conceive, while performing the duties of President and Assistant Commissioner of the Croton Aqueduct, because that great work was constructed by taxation upon, and the public credit of, the City of New-York alone as distinguished from the residue of the State. The title of this aqueduct is vested in the corporation for the public purpose of supplying the city with pure and wholesome water, and is a trust devolved upon the corporation like the streets by legislative enactment for the benefit of the public. Should the revenues, or the use of the croton water be diverted for private purposes, under the authority of the Legislative, enactments without compensation to the city, as the streets and avenues to some extent have been. I know of nothing under the decisions last referred to which would avert the calamity. But the principles which places the control and management of the property of the corporation under public and not private officers may be distinguished from that by which the use of the streets has been allowed for private emolument. There are officers for the management of public property in conformity with the existing public trust, and their control is not for subverting the property to private uses without compensation to the public corporation which raised the money for its acquisition and construction.

These reasons are controlling in respect to the suggestion that the Croton Aqueduct is the private property of the corporation. The case, as between the relator, Darragh, and the defendant, Jeremiah, becomes very simple when it is assumed that there is no question of private property belonging to the city involved in the case.

The power to remove the relator is claimed under the charter of 1857. The act of 1863 is in direct hostility with the charter in this respect, and necessarily operates as a repeal of that provision. It follows that the resolution of the Board of Aldermen removing Mr. Darragh is nugatory, and that he is still the assistant commiseioner. The resolution appointing Mr. Jeremiah is inoperative, because there was no vacancy in that office to be filled.

The resolution appointing Mr. Giles to the office of President Commissioner is also inoperative, because the term of Mr. Stephens had been extended by the act of 1863, and no vacancy existed in that office.

Judgment must be entered in each case for the relator, with costs, &c.

Mr. Marsh and Mr. Fullerton for the relators; Ex-Judges Pierrepont and Whiting for the defendants.

AS THE 3D AND 4TH OF AUGUST, 1865,

Commence, under the control of the government authorities, the public drawings of the newest grand lottery, with a capital of 3,800,000 francs, all of which will within five months be distributed in prizes.

This lottery is, independent of other advantages it offers, preferable to all others for this reason alone, that the Ducal Government of Brunswick have guaranteed the the proper payment of the prizes.

By means of a very ingenious arrangement, the best chances of large gains are offered, whilst the cost of a share is but small, the principal prizes being shares of

140,000, 70,000, 40,000, 30,000
